

U.N. Awaits Israeli Plans

U.S. Officials Believe Snag Improbable

Convinced Crisis Broken; Arab Bloc Reaction Not Known

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The paralyzing crisis over Israeli troop withdrawal appeared tonight to be broken. American officials were convinced that within a few days Israel will pull its forces out of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

The possibility of some kind of hitch remained since the Israeli plan will not go before the United Nations until tomorrow afternoon and the reaction of all the countries there, particularly the Arab bloc, is not yet known. However, a snag was considered here to be highly improbable.

Eban Informs Dulles

Ambassador Abba Eban announced at the State Department late today that he had informed Secretary of State Dulles in a two-hour meeting of Israel's statement to be made to the General Assembly in New York.

He told reporters that the statement "will cause widespread satisfaction" among all the people who are interested in bringing "peace and security and non-belligerency" to the Middle East.

His announcement here and a similar announcement by an Israeli spokesman at the United Nations climaxed three weeks of feverish diplomatic activity in Washington. In recent days the negotiations had involved not only Eban and Dulles but also President Eisenhower, French Premier Guy Mollet and Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

Israel Given Assurances

Israel finally made its decision to withdraw, according to information from diplomatic sources here, after being assured of widespread support for its aims of 1. preventing Egypt from again using the Gaza Strip as a base for raids against Israel and 2. assuring free navigation into the Gulf of Aqaba.

These assurances do not provide the formal iron-clad guarantees which Israel had first demanded. But they seem to constitute a large measure of what the Israelis wanted and to that extent may be represented as a victory for astute Israeli diplomacy.

Kadar Cabinet Reorganized

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Hungarian Cabinet and Communist party have been reorganized. An announcement today said the changes were meant to strengthen the nation's leadership.

Five changes were made in Premier Janos Kadar's Cabinet. Ferenc Muencsari, defense minister and interior minister, became first deputy premier. Lt. Gen. Geza Revesz took over the defense ministry and Bela Biszku stepped in as interior minister.

Gyula Kallai was named minister of culture and Dr. Frigyes Dolleschal minister of health. Sandor Ronai was relieved of his post as minister of trade, apparently because he also is speaker of Parliament. All the new ministers are Communists.

Biszku, 35, who as interior minister heads the Hungarian secret police, apparently is rising fast in Hungarian political life. Appointed a member of the Communist party's new Executive Committee, his name was little known before the October anti-Russian revolt.

Revesz, 55, the new defense minister, is a Moscow-trained soldier who organized the Hungarian frontier guards during the Stalinist years. He was arrested in 1922 by the Horthy Regency and sentenced to 10 years in prison. Freed three years later, he went to Moscow for training and study.

Payoff To Union Boss By Pinball 'King' Reported

Gambler Tells Probe $10,000 Paid Brewster

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A Portland, Ore., gambler, who said he once had the inside track with the Teamsters Union there, testified today that a rival paid "10,000 or more" to get back in the union's good graces.

This payment, James B. Elkins told a special Senate investigating committee, spoiled his plan to get a $250,000 a year monopoly in the pinball business in Oregon.

Elkins testified that the money was paid by Stanley Terry, a Portland pinball operator, to Frank W. Brewster of Seattle, head of the 11-state Western Conference of the Teamsters Union.

Contempt Action Ordered

Elkins' testimony topped a busy day in which the committee:

- 1. Ordered contempt of Congress proceedings against Frank Malloy, a Portland teamsters official, for refusing to answer questions about violence and racketeering in the Oregon city.

- 2. Heard from Stanley W. Earl, a Portland city commissioner, that the union opposed his election in 1956 because he refused to support an ordinance to license pinball machines.
- 3. Was told by Elkins that a pinball company he said was organized with the help of gamblers and protected by the union would have returned "fantastic" profits if it had ever got operating.

"Non-Union" Devices Picketed

The senators brought out during the questioning of witnesses that only pinball machines bearing the Teamsters Union sticker could operate successfully in Portland.

Business places using "non-union" machines, the witnesses said, were picketed by the union and had their deliveries of beer, bread and other supplies cut off.

Lloyd Hildreth, secretary of Teamsters Local 223 in Portland, testified that Terry was "put out" of the local in December 1954 on orders of Clyde Crosby, an international organizer of the teamsters in Oregon.

This was just before Elkins and his associates set out to gain their pinball monopoly.

Girl, 14, Elvis Fan, 'Threatens' Ike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—White House officials said today President Eisenhower has received a "threatening letter" from a 14-year-old girl who doesn't want rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley inducted into the Army.

In response to inquiries, Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said today that Secret Service agents investigated "as a matter of policy routine" and found the girl already was "under supervision of juvenile court authorities" at Minneapolis, Minn., before she wrote the letter.

"Because of her age her name will not be revealed," he added. Snyder also declined to disclose the nature of the threat against Eisenhower.

Slayer Executed

OSNING, N. Y., Feb. 28 (INS)—Leonardo Salemi, saved seven times by postponement of his execution in Sing Sing's death house, died tonight in the electric chair for the slaying of a Manhattan man.

"Bomber" Ruled Insane But Judge Orders Trial

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Despite a psychiatrist's report that the Mad Bomber, George Metesky, was legally insane, a General Sessions Court judge today ordered Metesky to stand trial.

Dr. John H. Cassidy of Bellevue Hospital said Metesky did not know the nature and quality of his acts when he planted 32 homemade bombs in New York City over a 16-year period.

"He was so carried away by his mission that he wasn't cognizant of his actions," Dr. Cassidy added.

Nevertheless, Judge John A. Mullen ruled: "This report has no immediate significance whatsoever. I have formed an opinion and the indications are that he is in such a mental condition that would enable him to plead and that any further adjournment of this plea would be of disservice to the community. There will be no harm to his rights."

In ruling that Metesky did not know the nature and quality of his acts, Dr. Cassidy was applying to him the legal definition of insanity.

But Mullen told reporters outside the court:

"It is my opinion that he does know the nature and quality of his acts."

In the courtroom, Mullen ordered defense lawyers to enter a plea of innocent for Metesky. They refused. Mullen then entered on Metesky's behalf a plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

Such a plea is intended to allow a jury to decide whether or not a defendant is insane.

Porter Blasts Trujillo; Cops Guard Capitol

Legislator Assails 'Gangster Methods' Of Dominican Boss

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Special police details swarmed through the Capitol today as Rep. Porter (D-Ore) arose in the House to denounce the "Chicago gangster methods" he said were employed by Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

What the police described as "extraordinary security precautions" were taken as a result of word that opposing groups of Dominican partisans had arrived in town for demonstrations for and against Porter's speech.

It also happened to be the 113th anniversary of the Central American republic's independence and the third anniversary, lacking one day, of the Puerto Rican shooting spree which left five congressmen wounded in the House aisles.

No Incidents

Porter said police advised him that "even a congressman should not consider himself immune from the long arm of Trujillo's vengeance." But he made his speech without incident and the House adjourned for the day shortly afterward.

In his speech, the first-term congressman from Oregon demanded a congressional investigation of the disappearance last Dec. 3 of Gerald Lester Murphy, 23, a Dominican airline pilot from Eugene, Ore.

Porter said "much evidence has piled up indicating willful complicity of the Dominican government" in the disappearance not only of Murphy but also of Jesus Galindez, an anti-Trujillo partisan who vanished in New York last March.

Sanctions Suggested

Porter suggested this country should apply economic sanctions against the Dominican sugar industry to show that the United States "will not tolerate Trujillo's abuses."

Three bus loads of Trujillo supporters drove up to the Capitol, took one look at the uniformed policemen massed there, and continued without stopping to the White House.

There they demonstrated in a cold rain for less than a half-hour and then dispersed. They carried banners reading "long live Trujillo" and "life has become a cheap adventure magazine."

Nixon Leaves To Visit Africa

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Vice President Nixon headed for Africa by plane today on a special good-will visit aimed at demonstrating an increasing U. S. interest in the African continent.

Bearing messages from President Eisenhower, Nixon is scheduled to visit eight African countries and Italy on a swift-moving 22-day, 18,000 mile tour.

He took off in an Air Force plane in a driving rain. He was accompanied by Mrs. Nixon and nine aides.

Just before his departure, he said the emergency of new, free nations in Africa, "can be decisive in the struggle which is taking place today" between communism and the forces of freedom.

Nixon planned to make a detailed report to President Eisenhower on his foreign policy findings, with particular stress on eliminating any irritants to present American relations.

Foreign leaders can be expected to besiege the vice president with pleas for American help. But Nixon is reported ready to make no commitments.

Nations to be visited are Morocco, The Gold Coast, Liberia, Uganda, Ethiopia, the Sudan, Libya, Tunisia and Italy.

Price Of Time Goes Up In Mid-April

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Time magazine announced today its newsstand price will be increased from 20 cents a copy to 25 cents, effective with its April 15 issue, and subscription rates will be raised accordingly.

Time magazine said it will increase its circulation base and advertising rates effective with its Jan. 6, 1958, issue.

The new circulation rate base will become 2,250,000, up 150,000 over the present base. The new black and white one-time page rate will be $11,560, an increase of 10.1 per cent. Rates for two-color and four-color units also will be raised approximately 10 per cent.

After Denunciation Of Trujillo

Rep. Charles Porter (D-Ore) and his wife look out the window of his Washington office after he made a speech in the House yesterday denouncing strong man Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic and demanding U. S. sanctions against Trujillo. Police guards were thrown around the Capitol as Porter spoke because of pro-Trujillo and anti-Trujillo demonstrators. (AP Photofax)

Dulles Pledges Rein To Be Kept On Doctrine Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, acting to keep the Middle East resolution intact, pledged today that it would not be used to launch a vast new spending program in the area.

In a letter to Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, Dulles also said none of the economic aid funds provided for in the resolution will be used to help Egypt build the Aswan Dam.

The letter was plainly aimed at dissipating congressional fears that congressional approval of the Middle East resolution would open doors to the spending of additional billions abroad.

Demos Continue Attack

Knowland made the letter public as Senate Democrats were making a new attack on the economic aid half of the resolution and calling it vague and "a foot-in-the-door" plan.

The Senate is debating an amendment by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) to strip from the resolution authority for President Eisenhower to spend 200 million dollars between now and June 30 on special economic and weapons aid to Mideast nations.

Knowland opposes the amendment. He used Dulles' letter as his latest argument, reading it to the Senate in full. Dulles wrote Knowland:

"I understand that you have asked for assurances that the administration would not, under the authorization in the Middle East resolution . . . enter into any commitments which would seem, morally or legally, to obligate the Congress to appropriate funds in the future. I assure you that no such commitment will be made. No Funds For Aswan Dam

"I also understand that you have inquired whether any of the funds, the use of which is authorized by this resolution, would be used for the Aswan Dam. The answer is 'no.'"

Last year the United States was deep in negotiations to help Egypt finance the Aswan Dam, an ambitious project to back up the waters of the Nile for irrigation and other purposes. But after Egypt made large-scale arms purchases from the Communists the State Department pulled out of the project.

Israeli Party Warns Against Withdrawal

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector Feb. 28 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion was challenged again today on the home front with a warning against Israel withdrawing from the Gaza Strip.

The leftist Socialist Achdut Avoda, third largest party in his coalition Cabinet, threatened that its two ministers would resign if Israel pulls troops out of Gaza without guarantees of security.

Achdut Avoda's resignation would not mean a collapse of Ben-Gurion's government but it could complicate any immediate agreement for withdrawal.

This is Achdut Avoda's second threat to desert Ben-Gurion. Last Friday it said it would quit the Cabinet if Ben-Gurion carried out even heavily conditioned promises to yield. But on Monday it joined other government parties in giving Ben-Gurion a vote of confidence.

Boy Gains Sight In His Left Eye After Explosion

JACKSON, Mich., Feb. 28 (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who was born blind in his left eye now is able to see with it. Sight came suddenly when a paint can exploded as he touched a match to it.

Marshall Maul of Jackson suffered minor burns in the explosion which happened as he played on a dump near his home last Friday.

Israelis Show No Exodus Sign

RAFAH, Gaza Strip, Feb. 28 (AP)—Israeli forces in the Gaza Strip show no signs of preparing for a withdrawal, and the Israeli military governor of the area said today he has neither plans nor orders to pull out. Reports of an agreement in Washington for an Israeli withdrawal from the strip failed to raise much optimism either in Rafah, Jerusalem or Cairo.

"The last thing in my mind is to leave," said Col. Matityahu Peled, the 33-year-old military governor. "We haven't planned it yet," he added. "It would take some time."

In Jerusalem, an Israeli government official denied that Israel has undertaken to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba territory within 48 hours. Commenting on a report from Washington that the United States, France and Israel agreed on a formula for withdrawal and replacement of Israeli troops by United Nations forces, the official said there was no reason for over-optimism about the current Washington talks.

In Cairo, Arab sources almost unanimously clung to the opinion Egypt could not agree to any formula except unconditional Israeli withdrawal.

Detective Supplied Photos Of Ekberg For Magazine

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28 (AP)—A private detective, who said he once was Anita Ekberg's boy friend, today told a State Senate committee how he supplied Confidential magazine with secret data and photos of the bosomy Swedish actress.

Fred Otash, 35-year-old state-licensed private investigator, gave details of how the so-called scandal magazine gets its stories—but only after he was threatened with a contempt citation.

The committee is holding hearings to determine if investigators for state-licensed collection agencies have violated the law by selling their secrets to magazines.

The movie colony has been indignant over stories appearing in the scandal magazines. Millions of dollars in suits have been filed. The current hearings reportedly

Postal Savings System Faced With Extinction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield today advocated junking of the 46-year-old Postal Savings system, currently holding about 1 1/2 billion dollars in public deposits.

He said the system, founding of which largely stemmed from a distrust of banks by immigrants and from an effort to accommodate persons remote from private banks, had outlived its usefulness.

He added that the declining trend of deposits and the number of depositors "started 10 years ago and is not due primarily to the high interest rates on money at the present time."

He said, "it is desirable that the government withdraw from competitive private business at every possible point."

Summerfield issued his statement in connection with hearings before the House Post Office Committee on a bill offered by Chairman Murray (D-Tenn) providing for a start on liquidation of the Postal Savings system 30 days after passage.

Highway Deaths Show Decrease

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—The National Safety Council reported today the traffic death toll in January dropped three per cent compared with the toll in January 1956.

It said it was the second time in the last two years that a decrease had been noted following compilation of reports from throughout the nation.

The last time a decrease was recorded was in October 1956, which showed a lower death toll than during the previous October.

The NSC said there were 2,860 traffic deaths reported in the first month of this year. The figure for January 1956 was 2,950.

Ned H. Dearborn, NSC president, said he was confident that a safety campaign launched in December was "having a favorable effect."

He said travel figures for the month were not yet available, so the Council could not now relate the decrease to any change in mileage.

Withdrawal Declaration Slated Today

Gaza, Aqaba Exodus Seen Under Terms Of Assembly Order

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Israel will inform the General Assembly tomorrow that she will withdraw troops completely from Egypt and the Gaza Strip, a high diplomatic source reported tonight.

The source, who has been close to the negotiations, said Israel may include some qualifying assumptions in making the announcement. The informant did not specify what these would be.

He said Israel would announce the plans to pull out of the Gulf of Aqaba and Gaza in accordance with the General Assembly resolutions of Feb. 2.

The disclosure came after Israel informed the Assembly that it would make a statement tomorrow afternoon on the plans.

The Feb. 2 resolutions were sponsored by the United States and six other nations.

Resolution Provisions

They provide that:

- 1. Israel withdraw immediately behind the 1949 armistice lines.

- 2. Both Israel and Egypt observe terms of the armistice and endorse recommendations of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld for stationing U.N. Emergency Forces along the demarcation line.

Taking the floor when the 30-nation Assembly resumed debate on the Middle East crisis after several postponements, Israeli Deputy Delegate Mordecai R. Kidron made this short statement:

"In connection with the debate on the present item, the Israel delegation will be in a position to make a statement on the Israeli plan for withdrawal at a meeting of the General Assembly tomorrow afternoon. I would be grateful if it can be arranged for Israel to make a statement at that time."

Fawzi Assails Mollet

Kidron's announcement was reported by sources close to the delegation to mean Israel is preparing to pull her troops back from the Gulf of Aqaba and the Gaza Strip, seized when Israeli forces crossed the armistice demarcation line four months ago.

It cut through some of the confusion on the Middle East situation and provoked a bitter attack on Israel and France by Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. Fawzi said bitterly that Israel's withdrawal "must not be the outcome of a bargain made anywhere and in exchange of a price Israel may have been promised by a people who had no right to make any such promise."

Lashing at French Premier Guy Mollet, who was visiting in another room of the U.N. headquarters as he spoke, Fawzi said Mollet had indulged in "muddling" in his speech in Washington yesterday. Fawzi said Mollet leveled all kinds of accusations at Egypt. The foreign minister said Mollet can hardly qualify as a model in matters of justice and added that Mollet "comes forth with his hands still dripping of Algerian and Egyptian blood."

Scrappy Grandma Gives Thugs Battle

ARLINGTON, Tex., Feb. 28 (AP)—A scrappy 50-year-old grandmother was robbed of $800 and beaten with a pistol by two thugs last night but not before she ripped an elaborate wig from one man's head.

Mrs. Bob Banning was attacked in her yard. Dazed, bleeding and hysterical, she stumbled into her home. Five stitches were required to close the wound in her head.

The men wore long black wigs, which she described as "just like Indian's hair," when they jumped out of a hedge at her, she said.

Her husband was returning from Hot Springs, Ark., where he had been racing horses. The wife had been operating his tavern near here.

Eisenhower Urges Red Cross Support

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower tonight urged all Americans to support the Red Cross as "one of the finest ways to practice the principle of 'good neighbors' on a broad scale."

The Red Cross, in its annual drive beginning tomorrow, seeks to raise 95 million dollars.

Europe Escapes Crippling Slump Despite Oil Crisis

LONDON, Feb. 28 (P)—The Suez oil crisis has slowed the prosperous pace of Europe's industry, but it has caused no crippling slump. Credit for this goes to the ingenuity of the European industrialist, businessman, traveling salesman, worker, to deliveries of American oil — and to an uncommonly warm winter.

In fuel-hungry Britain, one company replaced its delivery trucks with ponies and carts.

French industrialists hired a fleet of ancient railway engines to pump heat into factories.

Arch business rivals in Denmark cooperated to work their way around the hearing oil shortage.

Gasoline restrictions, severe in some lands, are beginning to ease. But prices are up to new highs in many places.

Though weighted down with the worries of Suez, European governments have kept in clear focus the economic importance of the coming invasion of the great American tourist.

From the Bay of Naples to the Scottish Highlands the tourist, with his badly needed dollars, will be catered for. He'll have plenty of gas for his car and all the other comforts that his money demands.

Hardest hit by more than three months of fuel shortages are automobile manufacturers and salesmen, gasoline stations, car hire companies and hotels and restaurants in out-of-the-way places.

Big dollar-spending for American oil is threatening already precarious trade balances in Britain, France and the Netherlands.

Ike Complains Cough Down In His Lungs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (P)—President Eisenhower complained today that the cough which has been bothering him for several weeks is "down in my lungs."

Eisenhower made the remark at a Pentagon luncheon honoring Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, retiring chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and Flemming's successor, Gordon Gray.

It was Eisenhower's first visit to the Pentagon, where he once served as Army chief of staff, in nearly three years.

Referring to Eisenhower's cough, Secretary of Defense Wilson asked him: "What is it—kind of like laryngitis?"

"No, it's deeper than that," the President replied. "It gets down in my lungs."

After X-ray examinations at Walter Reed Army Hospital a week ago, the White House said the examination showed his lungs and sinuses were clear. Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's physician, has attributed the cough to tracheitis—inflammation of the windpipe.

Unspent State Funds $800,000 Over Estimate

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 28 (P)—Legislators looking for revenues for balancing Gov. McKeldin's 363-million dollar budget got some good news today to counteract gloomier news received earlier.

Budget Director James G. Rennie told the governor state departments will revert to the treasury this year $800,000 more than originally estimated.

This will almost offset Comptroller J. Millard Tawes' warning to legislative finance committees that the sales tax yield had been over estimated nearly one million dollars.

"We're about where we started," Del. Boone (D-Balto County) chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, commented on the revised estimates.

Rennie said reversions (unspent money) to general funds will now total about $3,400,000 instead of the $2,600,000 estimated when the governor made up his budget.

The largest amount of the increase, $500,000 will be in unused education funds resulting from state aid to counties in its so-called equalization fund. It was saved because of an upward revision of county level of tax assessments, which determine how much the State will give each county.

Frederic M. Alger Quits Brussels Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (P)—The White House today announced the resignation of Frederic M. Alger Jr. as ambassador to Belgium—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said he was sorry to see it happen.

The departure of Alger from the Brussels post has been forecast for some time, and Potter has rallied to his support. The senator said today:

"Everybody agrees he has done an outstanding job."

"I hate to see a man who has done such a good job moved just to make a spot for somebody else, if that is the case," Potter said he did not believe Alger was "dumped" but that the move was part of a policy of not keeping envoys too long in one place.

British Security Men Red-Faced

CALDER HALL, England, Feb. 28 (P)—Red-faced security men today removed two Soviet flags planted by daring students atop a half-completed atomic reactor at Britain's closely guarded atomic energy establishment. The students raised the flags as part of a university rag—stunt week.

The atomic authority told this story: Fourteen students from Manchester University cut their way through a high wire fence protecting Calder Hall. Apparently using walkie-talkie radio sets, the pranksters coordinated their movements to dodge security guards.

They made their way 200 feet to the top of the atomic reactor No. 3, still under construction and secured two Red flags.

Bonn Accepts Bulganin Idea

BONN, Germany, Feb. 28 (P)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has accepted Soviet Premier Bulganin's suggestion that West Germany and the Soviet Union build up their trade.

But he said development of real friendship between the two nations depends entirely on "Soviet agreement to the restoration of German unity."

The 81-year-old West German Chancellor today released the text of a note which was delivered in Moscow yesterday. The note was dated Feb. 22.

Bulganin had told Adenauer that no progress could be made toward German reunification until West Germany recognized "the existence" of Communist East Germany. To this Adenauer replied:

"You say in your letter that it must be acknowledged that two German states exist! I cannot share your view."

"Free the 17 million Germans, Mr. Premier, and you will do an extraordinarily great service to friendly cooperation between our two countries," he added.

Setting forth a three-point program for cooperation with Moscow, Adenauer suggested:

1. Trade talks.
2. Development of scientific and technical cooperation.
3. Establishment of consulates.

Teen-Age "Lobbyists" Youths Oppose Raising Age For Driver Permits

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 28 (P)—A group of the youngest "lobbyists" ever to appear at the Legislature today asked a Senate committee to kill a bill which would raise the age for securing drivers' licenses from 16 to 18.

Four 15-year-olds and a 16-year-old from Easton High School also asked the senators to make driver training courses mandatory in all Maryland high schools.

Miss Beverly Birge, daughter of the assistant secretary of the Senate, Lawrence Birge, said the bill would preclude most high school students from taking driver training courses, because they would be too young to qualify for the instruction while in school.

She said that of 38 accidents in Talbot County last year, only three involved drivers under 19.

John Hunt, a 16-year-old driver, said most of the boys around Easton need cars to get to their part-time jobs in nearby communities.

Peter Bailey, 15, said the proposed law would work a hardship on parents who would have to chauffeur their children to many activities, and William Miller, another 15-year-old, reminded the committee that hitchhiking is illegal.

J. Cavendish Darrell, a representative of the Automobile Trade Assn., said there is not much difference in judgment between 16 and 18-year-olds.

He said teenagers today are "more responsible" than they were years ago and that show-offs, who cause most accidents, are the same at all ages.

The Judicial Proceedings Committee seemed impressed with the testimony of the young people but deferred action on the bill.

Two Pennsylvanians Held In Bank Holdup

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 28 (P)—Two Pennsylvanians were lodged in Dauphin County Jail today awaiting return to Baltimore to face charges of armed robbery. They are accused of the $7,010 holdup of a Maryland bank three weeks ago.

U.S. Commissioner Charles J. Ware fixed bail for Charles Leroy Spangler, 33, Hanover, at $20,000, the same bail set yesterday in York for James Clarence Rohrer of New Oxford.

The two are charged with holding patrons and employees of the Union Mills, Md., branch of the Westminster Trust Co. at gunpoint and making off with the money taken from a cash drawer.

Ware familiarized Spangler with his rights at an unusual arraignment held in a barred conference room in the cell block of the new Dauphin County Jail. The hearing was scheduled for the jail as a convenience to Ware who was working all day with a special Dauphin County investigating grand jury.

Religious Task Force Includes Flying Parsons

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Out of the sky come the messengers of the Lord. They're not angels but they've got wings. They're the clergymen who today are carrying on their cause by airplane.

In this country and in foreign mission areas, these flying parsons have become part of the religious task force.

"Like businesses and organizations, churches are realizing that they have a job for the airplane too," said the Rev. Charles V. Lee, a Congregational Christian preacher-pilot whose work spans a seven-state area.

Operating out of Yankton, S. D., the Rev. Mr. Lee is carrying out a new Congregational Christian project—the "Great Plains Evangelism Ministry"—to put more vigor into small-town and rural churches.

Involved are 780 of these churches, scattered widely through Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

The 32-year-old Mr. Lee, a World War II combat pilot whose decision to enter the ministry was formed in the air fighting of the South Pacific, is one of a growing number of men who fly for their faith.

They use light planes—usually Piper Cubs or Cessnas—so they can land in a farm pasture, a wide spot in a dirt road or a jungle clearing. They sometimes take along fixtures—a cross and candlesticks—to set up impromptu altars.

They provide not only spiritual contacts with their isolated parishioners, but often run emergency errands, such as flights to hospitals or for supplies.

There's the Rev. Thomas Chambers, a Roman Catholic priest, of New Town, N. D., who ranges over a huge but sparsely populated parish by plane. It has an extra ski landing gear for use in snowstorms.

There is the Rev. W. W. Kitterman, a Presbyterian of Fort Smith, Ark., who flies to out-of-the-way spots in Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Mississippi to hold revivals.

There's the Rev. Adolph A. Pribyl, a flying Roman Catholic pastor of the Dickinson, N. D., area, and the Rev. Otto H. Lehner, the Evangelical United Brethren pastor of the Watertown, S. D., region.

There's the Rev. Allan Inglis, of Flasher, N.D., who covers a 2,800-square-mile area by plane, preaching each Sunday in five little Congregational Christian churches with a total of about 250 members.

There's the Rev. John C. Chopeski, a flying priest who is regent and acting dean of the Parks Air College in St. Louis, where many brothers and priests bound for overseas mission duty learn to fly along with lay students.

In primitive foreign mission areas, the plane also is, in more ways than one, a god-send.

The Missionary Aviation Fellowship, started in 1940, now operates in five mission lands with a fleet of 13 small planes.

The Episcopal bishop of Alaska, the Rt. Rev. William J. Gordon of Fairbanks, uses a ski-equipped plane to keep in touch with his widespread diocese, sometimes to bring in medical supplies or food to snowbound villages.

The Rev. Joseph Walachy, with a Roman Catholic mission in New Guinea, uses a plane to serve 489 otherwise inaccessible stations in the jungle land.

The Rev. Mr. Lee, who had been the flying parson of a North Dakota ranchland area before he took on the Great Plains project, has found that the job has its adventurous side.

He lost two planes in the war, and has lost one in a crash in church service.

A native of Lima, Ohio, he joins in the Western habits where he works, and has learned some of its tricks—including rodeo bronc busting.

In the Great Plains project, Lee makes the rounds of the little churches, gathering data, digging out weak spots, conferring, advising, distributing materials and working out on-the-spot, home-spun methods for rejuvenating lagging programs.

As he flies from one place to another, he plugs in a dictaphone to answer letters and dictate reports and notes on his last stop. He carries a folding motor scooter to get from cow-pasture landings to the towls.

His idea is to help small churches make the most of what they've got, and do it enthusiastically, even if they don't have the usual superficial advantages of big church organizations and experts.

Moby Dick Spotted

GENOA, Feb. 28 (AP)—Crewmen aboard the Egyptian freighter Mohamed Ali el Kebir saw Moby Dick aloft in mid-Atlantic. The 90-foot plastic model of the white whale was lost in a storm during filming of a movie in the Canary Islands.

Crewmen spotted it through a flock of fooled sea gulls circling overhead.

Defense Takes Talk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Keeping tabs of the nation's defense problems takes a lot of talking.

Pentagon personnel make 135,000 calls daily, using 20,000 phones connected by 90,000 miles of cable.

Robot System Makes Landing Jet Look Easy

By ELTON C. FAY

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—The pilot sat with hands on knees, looking idly out of a window, while his Navy jet fighter slid down an electronic pathway and landed itself.

Only as the aircraft began rolling toward a stop did Dan Veronica, test pilot for the Bell Aircraft Corp., put his hands back on the control stick he had abandoned two miles back.

"Really isn't much to it," he commented to the newsmen who rode with him in the first public demonstration of the fully automatic landing system developed for the Navy. It is for eventual use aboard aircraft carriers and, still later, by commercial airlines.

It did, indeed, look easy. But an intricate combination of radar, radio and an electronic brain, back on the ground, was flying the Douglas F3D to its perfect landing.

A few minutes earlier, the fighter had screamed into the air from Niagara Falls Airport, made a wide turn above the mist of the cataract and headed back in the general direction of the field.

A voice from the control point on the ground came in over the radiophone—"You are four miles out." A moment later it was "two miles out."

A tell-tale light flashed on to show that the automatic system was taking over control. Veronica eased back a notch on the power setting, took hands and feet off the controls and peered about to be sure no plane had wandered into his approach path. Then he quit work.

A sharp crosswind was blowing. But the robot pilot corrected the drift, eased the plane back on course until the nose pointed precisely at the runway . . . down in a long easy "flare-out" approach . . . a little bump as the tires touched concrete, tossing up a hatful of smoke. The trip was over.

The Automatic Carrier Landing System, tested more than 1,200 times on land, will be taken to sea this summer for actual tests aboard a Navy flattop.

Fog, storm or night can present no problem, the designers told newsmen.

An official said that while there are many navigational aids that bring a pilot close to a runway or carrier deck, "there hadn't been a landing system in which the pilot doesn't take over control about 50 feet off the deck."

The new system, six years in the making, brings the aircraft down all the way to the touch-down of the wheels.

In answer to questions, officials said they believe that planes could be landed on a carrier deck in "zero-zero" weather at the rate of one every 30 seconds. This is close to the rate attained in carrier landings in perfect weather using normal pilot control.

Bell experts say the new system, in addition to the current military application, has vast possibilities for commercial airline operation. It can be hooked into other, longer-range navigational aids so that an airliner may head toward a city and then land under push-button control in totally blind flying weather.

No Decision Yet On IRB Missile, Wilson Asserts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said last night, at Army urging, that there will be only one Intermediate-Range Ballistic Missile but that "selection of the missile to be employed will be made at a later date."

Wilson said this in an obvious effort to quiet the renewed controversy occasioned by his statement to a news conference Tuesday that "in effect" the Army's Jupiter entry in the missiles race "is canceled."

The secretary said last night that "perhaps his statements concerning Jupiter had been somewhat misinterpreted."

There has been long-standing rivalry between the Army and Air Force over development of a 1,500-mile missile, with the Air Force candidate being the Thor.

Wilson, in a written statement issued through a Pentagon spokesman, said he "intended to convey" that only one Intermediate-Range Ballistic Missile will be considered for operational use.

He said the "previously contemplated program of producing two missiles had been changed with the cancellation of one from the program, and further that the Air Force would be responsible for planning the production and employment of the final missile."

The statement did not make clear what he meant by cancellation. He apparently meant that plans to use two missiles had been canceled, rather than plans to develop two.

Wilson added that, "For the time being, testing of both the Jupiter and the Thor will go forward."

Soroptimists To Take Part In Spring Conference

The Soroptimist Club of Cumberland discussed installation of officers at the meeting Wednesday evening at Central YMCA. It will be held in June in the form of a dinner meeting at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Members are asked to have their classification hats ready for the district spring conference, to be held in April at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Blanch Ridgeway presided and Mrs. Faye Stillwagon extended a welcome to Miss Clara Daugherty, and presented her with her pin.

Mrs. Ella Everstine presented a film on the Salk vaccine.

Others attending were Mrs. Maxine Doak, Dr. Rita Brinker, Miss Edna Seifert, Mrs. Catherine Welsh, Mrs. Mary Cathryn Spiedl, Mrs. Dorothy Green, Mrs. Bessie Hanks, Miss Ruth Barnes and Mrs. Alice DeHaven. The next meeting will be March 12 at noon at Shee's.

Hospital Plan To Be Discussed

Plans to pack a sunshine basket and hold an open meeting were formulated at the monthly business session of the North Cumberland Homemakers Club yesterday in the form of a luncheon at Fairview Avenue Methodist Church.

Everyone who might be interested in hospitalization insurance is invited to attend the next meeting, March 28 at 1:15 at the church. Mrs. Van Roby will be chairman. A bake sale will precede the meeting.

A letter was read from a 16-year-old girl in the Heart Hospital in Philadelphia, telling how much happiness the old Christmas cards the club sent have given her, as she is not able to attend entertainment provided at the hospital. It was decided to make a sunshine basket for Easter and articles are to be brought to the next meeting. Donations also were made to the March of Dimes and Heart Fund drives.

The meeting opened with the flag salute, collect and routine reports. The group sang "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," and the history of the hymn was given by Mrs. Lillian Eichner. Mrs. G. C. Slaven demonstrated work simplification and the proper use of detergents. Roll call was answered with favorite household tools.

February birthdays of Mrs. John Schaff, Mrs. Mae Alma Margherita and Mrs. Eva Reynolds were honored. Mrs. William Schoenadel, Mrs. John Reynolds and Mrs. Edward Lannon were guests. The meeting closed with group prayer and singing, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Harold Fishell. The luncheon committee was composed of Mrs. Raymond Burkey, chairman, Mrs. Marie Long, Mrs. Armand Fanelli, Mrs. Margherita, Mrs. Ada Scritchfield, Mrs. Helen Schwab, Mrs. Lula Arnold and Mrs. Cathryn Kilroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Watkins and family, Sea Cliff, Long Island, have returned after visiting his mother, Mrs. Nannie Watkins, Race Street.

Associated Women Will Plan Contest, Banquet

Farm Queen Contest plans were discussed at the meeting of the county presidents and state officers of the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau, held in Baltimore at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Mrs. Edgar Matthews, Oldtown, president of the Associated Women of Allegany County Farm Bureau, attended and has called a meeting of the county group for Tuesday. It will be a luncheon meeting, at Lazarus Fountain Room, at which time plans will be discussed for the county Farm Queen contest; and for the banquet to be sponsored by the association in conjunction with the Farm Bureau. The latter is to be held the first week of April at the Baltimore Pike fire hall, and will be served by the Pleasant Grove Church women.

Mrs. Matthews also will report on the Baltimore meeting, at which time plans for the year's work was discussed. It includes working on membership; concentrating on forming new planning groups to inform members what the Farm Bureau is doing for the farmer through legislation, as well as to give farm families social activities; working on misunderstandings between city people and the farmers; improve public relations; to improve health have everyone have a physical checkup and carry their cards in case of accident; and the "Pennies for Friendship" by which the bureaus are sending farm tools to Korea. Allegany County has sent one.

In conjunction with the safe driving campaign the group had two guest speakers on safety.

Cresap Club Receives Reports

Reports and a demonstration featured the meeting of the Cresap Homemakers Club, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Long, Cresaptown.

Silent prayer was held for Brady Leasure, father of Mrs. Edward Lewis, who died last week. It was followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The collect was read by Mrs. Fordon Miller and the story of the hymn of the month was given by Mrs. Herbert Heineman, followed by the group singing of "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Roll call was answered with favorite kitchen tools.

A report of the Mothers March of Dimes, in which the club participated, was given. $216.64 was collected in the Cresaptown area. The club voted $2 to the heart fund and $1 to the Cresaptown Community Council, of which the club is a member. A letter of acknowledgement of support was read from the Silver committee.

An article regarding the foreign relations' policies of Washington and Lincoln was read by Mrs. Thomas Millar. A rug exhibit was held. Mrs. Long displayed a braided rug made from jersey and Mrs. Annie Shank a woven rug. A work simplification demonstration was given by Mrs. Edith Counihan. She stressed the importance of keeping everything within easy reach; working in a comfortable position, with both hands; using the best equipment and combining jobs, leaving out unnecessary work.

The meeting closed with singing, "West Virginia Hills." Nineteen members attended.

Mrs. Edward Mullan, chairman, Mrs. Robert Mathews, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Ronald Screen, Mrs. Kenneth Williams, Prizes; Mrs. Albert Darby, chairman, Mrs. Judy Deremer, Mrs. Oscar Lashley, Jr., Tickets; Mrs. Donald Workman, chairman, Mrs. J. Brooke Fradiska, Entertainment; Mrs. J. William Hill, chairman, Mrs. William Firey, Mrs. Arthur S. Davis, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Murray, Publicity.

Refreshments will be served free of charge during the card party. Assisting Mrs. Shank and Mrs. Scott will be Mrs. Fradiska, Mrs. Stanley Goodrich, Mrs. Mathews, Mrs. Raymond Lapp, Mrs. Louis Millholland, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. J. A. Baldwin, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Deremer, Mrs. Screen, Mrs. Firey, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. John Murray, Mrs. Bernard Warren, Mrs. Mary Dressman, Mrs. Earl Shank, Mrs. James Scott, co-chairmen of Refreshments.

UW Group Discusses Russia

Miss Olive Simpson was guest speaker at the meeting of the International Relations Group of the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, held at the home of Mrs. Veronica Schleifman, Washington Street.

Russia was the topic of the study. Miss Simpson gave a brief history of Russia, dwelling especially on the era preceding the Soviet Union. Miss Virginia Dixon introduced Miss Simpson and assisted in the discussion with a prepared list of questions. A general discussion followed.

Mrs. William H. Blake presided. Others attending were Mrs. George O. Wolford, Miss Margaret Baker, Miss Dorothy Willson, Miss Janet Anderson, Mrs. John G. Thomas and Mrs. William C. Harrison.

A panel on India will feature the program at the next meeting, which will be March 30 at 2 p. m. in the home of Miss Adele Malcolm, 200 Washington Street. Miss Lillian Boughton will lead the panel. Miss Martha Rice is to be cohostess.

Miss Dorothy Judy, 61 Greene Street, has been admitted to Memorial Hospital for observation.

Group To Attend Md. BPW Board Meeting Tomorrow

Seven members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club will attend the board meeting of the Maryland Federation tomorrow in Silver Spring.

Participating in the program president, will conduct the double session board meeting. Routine reports are to be given; by-laws, state first vice president; Miss Anna Nicht, parliamentary; and plans for the state convention May 17-19 at Frederick, Md. Miss Helen Beck, local club president, all members of the state board.

Also attending from here are Miss Dorothy Manley, Mrs. Ethel Northcraft, Membership co-chairmen of the local club; and Miss Mary Jo Logsdon, recording secretary.

The group will be guests of the Silver Spring Club at a break-fast at Indian Spring Country Club, where the meeting and luncheon are to be held. Miss Margaret Bowers, state morning night at the fire hall.

Social Chart

Members of Zion WSCS are to bring items for the Blue basket to the meeting tonight at 7:30 at the church, Bedford Road. Mrs. Estella Judy, Mrs. Lucy Clark and Mrs. Genevieve Wotring will be hostesses.

The weekly dance sponsored by the Bedford Road Firemen and Auxiliary will be held to-morrow night at the fire hall.

Know Your Own Voice

Now that women have made so much of careers, all the phases of pleasing personality count more than ever. Certainly a good voice is one of the best of them. But for some reason, the vocal expression of attractive personality is often neglected by women who are well aware of the value of a good appearance and gentle manners.

You might say that this is because no one has any idea of how he sounds to others. And without a recording, never will. I disagree with this. I think you can tell a great deal about your own voice just by asking yourself this question:

Do you often feel that you have far too much trouble putting over what you say?

Even if they are well-chosen, your words may be unimpressive because of your voice. Thus if your answer is yes to the question, you have reason to believe that you aren't too easy to understand, that your tones aren't expressive, that at best, your voice is ordinary.

There's nothing pleasing — or convincing either — about tones that are so softly ladylike they can scarcely be heard. A voice with too low a volume hardly sparks interest in the person who puts over a big, bright idea. You must speak up and get some expression into your tones before anyone is attracted by what you say.

Certainly if you aren't satisfied to be ordinary in other ways, you can't be content with an ordinary voice. Make it a beautiful one. A beautiful voice is special even among the most special of attributes. We'd like very much to help with our booklet, "Your Most Attractive Voice," which shows you every point of voice improvement. It's yours for 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me at this newspaper.

Tomorrow: Close figuring.

(Copyright 1957, John F. Dille Co.)

Paper Mill To Get New Dial System

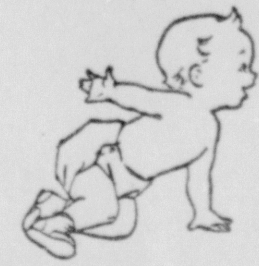

A new dial telephone system is expected to be in operation at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company before the end of the year, according to a company spokesman.

Presently, the mill uses two systems, one of its own for intra-communications, and another belonging to the C&P Telephone Companies of Baltimore City and West Virginia for incoming and outgoing calls. The new system calls for elimination of the mill's overloaded system and replacement and expansion of the C&P service with a modern dial, private branch exchange unit.

Railroad Pay Bill Goes Before House For Action

A bill of importance to many of the bill, as far as office help Cumberlanders because of the Queen City's status as a railroad center passed the State Senate Wednesday and goes into the House of Delegates for action.

Senate Bill 63 sponsored by Sen. Bertorelli of Baltimore would require railroads to pay their employees except those in an executive capacity once a week.

The measure also states that the railroad shall on or before Thursday of each week pay to each person, except the executives, the wages earned during the seven-day period ending on Tuesday of the preceding week.

Currently most of the employees of the Western Maryland Railway and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are paid twice each month.

There would be no local effect

Del. Fred B. Driscoll reported yesterday the Allegany County delegation Wednesday reported out favorably, with amendments, Senate Bill 314 which would allow Luke and Westernport to participate in the use of the proposed waste treatment plant at the Luke Mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The delegation still has under consideration Senate Bill 271 which would empower the Allegany County Commissioners to regulate junk yards and public dumps.

The bill had been passed, but was reconsidered and re-referred to the legislature to provide an appeal from the county commissioners' rulings.

Considerate Violinist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Joseph Carcione, 23, violinist with the National Symphony Orchestra, practices six or seven hours a day.

But he has figured out a way to keep the neighbors from complaining.

"I just take an old bow, wash the hair down and use it without resin," he explained. "The sound only travels about a foot and a half."

'Rainmaker'

Mitch Ryan plays the title role of the sweet-talking stranger in the Barter Theatre production of "The Rainmaker," to be staged at Allegany High School Tuesday, March 12 at 8 p. m. Tickets for the Jaycee-sponsored production may be obtained at the Jack 'n' Jill Shop or from any Jaycee.

PPG Construction Work Continuing Satisfactorily

Progress in construction of the local plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is continuing satisfactorily, according to R. M. Hainsfurther, manager. Steel erection for the ware-room made good progress during the past week as fair weather permitted. Erection of steel for the polishing building has been completed to the extent that this building is being closed in and the installation of machinery and equipment continues in the grinding building. The majority of the exterior work has been completed on the glass and brick main office building and the office building should be ready for occupancy in May.

Work in the Training section, which handles the company's extensive instructional program for both supervisory and hourly employees, is being stepped up in preparation for the operation of the "cold end" of the plant.

The employment office has begun processing applications for employment in the wareroom, polishing, grinding and maintenance departments. Approximately 425 additional hourly employees will be hired, according to Hainsfurther.

Completion of production facilities and full plant operation of polished plate glass are planned for this summer.

Local Man Appeals 18 Months Sentence

James Stanley Ritchie of Winchester Road has appealed an 18 months sentence to the Maryland House of Correction for assault upon his wife, Mrs. Daisy Ann Ritchie.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick, who imposed the term in Trial Magistrate Court Tuesday, set bond at $1,000 for Ritchie's appearance before the April term of Allegany County Circuit Court on the appeal. Ritchie was released upon posting the bond.

Food Problem Licked

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 28 (AP)—Quemoy, Nationalist China's outpost island just off the Chinese mainland, is nearing self-sufficiency in food for both its civilian and military residents. A few years ago it produced only enough to feed its 80,000 persons for three months. Now food production on the 50-square-mile island is sufficient for the same number 11 months a year.

Just as you use sun tan lotion, asphalt-coated felt to keep the sun from drying out the heavy sun, manufacturers of asphalt shingles imbed millions of tough, opaque mineral granules into the roof. The granules also give the roof color.

When you make up a bed, be sure the sheets (especially the under one) are smooth. It takes smooth sheets as well as a comfortable mattress to make sleeping comfortable.

Trees Cut For Cross

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Members of the DeWitt Church traveled over the weekend to the New York Mission Society's upstate camp at Dover Furnace, N. Y., where they chopped down two oak trees after holding a woodland service and singing "The Old Rugged Cross." The wood from the trees will be used to make a cross for the congregation's new church in lower Manhattan.

Church Expansion Contract Signed

Calvary Methodist Church trustees sign a contract with J. F. Valentine and Sons for construction of an addition to the Ridgeley church which, with recently completed remodeling, will total about $47,500. In photo are (seated, left to right) Jesse F. Valentine, James M. Perry, chairman of board of trustees; Marshall Valentine; (standing) Rev. Harold May, pastor; Marion L. Phillips, Floyd Comer, Olin B. Logsdon, chairman of the official board; Mrs. Nellie Kight, secretary; Leon C. Hammond, chairman of the building committee, and Arnold Spencer.

Schools To Get Secretarial Service

The large elementary schools in Allegany County will be provided half-day secretarial service by the Cumberland County Board of Education officials. The program starts today. Board of Education officials intend to place secretarial help at the six schools in the county having enrollments over 400 pupils, he added.

These are West Side, East Side, Side and Columbia Street schools. For East Side and Johnson Heights schools, Mrs. Juanita L. Hansrote, 1021 Kent Avenue, has been employed. The positions at Westernport and Lonaconing are in the process of being filled, Webster reported. Mrs. Owens is a graduate of Oakland High School and had previous secretarial service at the Ralph Pritts Garage in Oakland. She has had commercial training, he said. Group Protests License

A remonstrance has been filed with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners by a group of 44 property owners and residents in the 400 block of Columbia Street. They voiced objections to issuance of a permit for a beer, wine and liquor establishment at 442 Columbia Street. The premises are owned by William Judy who operates a market there. The license application has been filed by Mary E. Reed, who has the permit for an establishment at 52 North Centre Street known as the Acorn Cafe. Her son operates the business. The Columbia Street residents state there are sufficient places where liquor is sold in the general neighborhood, and that the street is narrow and the premises near the Columbia Street Elementary School. They state it would also be against the peace and welfare of the neighborhood. No date has been set to hear the remonstrance.

Sokolsky Receives Christopher Award

NEW YORK — George E. Sokolsky, author of the column, "These Days," which appears in The Cumberland News, was awarded a bronze medal and diploma by The Christophers this week. The award was for an article published last November 22 entitled "Why We Give Thanks," its 1957 annual dealer meeting and was made by Father James at the Spruce Creek Rod and Gun Club near Warrior's Mark, Pa. Christophers.

The awards are presented semi-annually to selected persons for using their "God-given talents in a constructive manner."

Engineering, Supply Firm Meeting Held

Aircon Engineering and Supply Company, Carrier Corporation's air conditioning distributor for the Western Maryland and Central Pennsylvania area, held its 1957 annual dealer meeting and was made by Father James at the Spruce Creek Rod and Gun Club near Warrior's Mark, Pa. Christophers.

Extensive product and promotion plans for 1957 were unveiled by Aircon, including an elaborate trip to Mexico City and the Caribbean for dealers.

More than 50 dealers, utility representatives, and consulting engineers attended.

Hospital Head Named

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 28 — Dr. Carl John Carter, general surgeon at Fairmont General Hospital since 1925, was appointed by the Flintstone area of Polish Mountain in Allegany County for one dollar. The commission paid $1,500 for the structure in rights-of-way negotiations and now wants the shack cleared away for construction. In announcing its offer Wednesday, the commission noted that it would cost the State $240 to tear down and cart away the shack whereas the one-dollar buyer would assume this cost under terms of the sale.

Never return the fever thermometer to its case without making sure it is sanitary for the next time it is needed. Wash it with soap or detergent suds in cool water, as it is maintained that hot water is not necessary because the soap serves to wash germs and bacteria away.

Mt. Savage High To Conduct Play School For Five Weeks

Children 4 To 6
Will Be Enrolled

MT. SAVAGE — Play school, sponsored by the senior-junior home economics class of Mount Savage High School under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Kohout, instructor, will be held beginning the week of April 15 and continuing for five weeks, for children between the ages of four and six years.

Martha Ann Lewis, senior, is chairman of the group working on this project. The class will be divided into committees, each having different jobs to do.

The play school will be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 12 o'clock.

The schedule for the morning's activities includes story telling, coloring, games, crafts, and lunch. The project is being planned as nearly like a regular nursery school as possible.

Learning about the emotional development and also the habits of children is the main objective of the play school, which is the culminating activity of a unit on child-care.

To register children for this activity, parents must contact Mrs. Kohout before April 1.

Baptist Clergy To Visit Area

FROSTBURG — Rev. Elwood Settle, pastor of First English Baptist Church, has announced that two guest speakers will occupy the pulpit of the church Sunday.

Rev. Wendell Gross, member of First Baptist Church, Cumberland, and now in his last year of study at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will speak at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Dr. H. C. Goerner, professor of missions at SBTs, will speak at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Dr. Goerner and Rev. Gross are members of a mission group of 15 students from SBTs who are conducting services in the Western District of Maryland Baptists this Sunday. They will also present a mission play at Second Baptist Church, Cumberland, Saturday, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

FSTC Student Teachers Air "Guidance"

Problems Outlined
By W. J. Donahue

FROSTBURG — Student teachers of Frostburg State Teachers College discussed "guidance" at their weekly meeting and heard a talk on the subject by William J. Donahue, director of guidance at Allegany High School.

Mr. Donahue, in speaking to the students who are now doing practice teaching work in the schools of Allegany and Garrett counties, stressed the importance of every teacher being a guidance teacher. "The teacher in the classroom can help the youngsters solve many of the problems that are troubling them," said Mr. Donahue.

The student teachers, who are now doing their practice teaching in the junior high field, discussed with Mr. Donahue many of the cases they have met in their work where students have been helped with guidance suggestions from the teacher.

John M. Dunn, director of student teaching, and Robert W. Jones, instructor in methods at State Teachers, conducted the weekly meeting. Thirty-nine student teachers were in attendance. Lowell M. Sowers, director of public relations at the college, was a guest of the student teachers.

Bids Requested On Westernport Filter Basin

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Okey E. Michael and Town Commissioners at their regular meeting Wednesday evening Feb. 27, authorized the asking for bids for the removal and replacement of subsidence basin bottom for the filtration plant, to be publicly opened and read at 8 p. m. March 13.

The work calls for an area 18 by 27 feet. The plans, specifications and proposal forms and other contract documents may be examined at the city clerk's office. A complete set of bidding documents for the project may be obtained by depositing $5.

The deposits will be refunded in full after the bid date providing a bid has been submitted for the work, and provided they are returned in good condition within ten days after receipt of bids. The deposit will be returned to the bidders.

No bid will be considered unless it is accompanied by bidder's certified check for $100 to the town. This bid will be forfeited to the town as liquidated damages in the event an award is made and the contracts and bonds are not properly executed as required.

No bidder may withdraw his bid prior to 35 days after receipt of bids. The town reserved the right to reject any and all bids, to waive any technical defects and to accept any bid that it may deem to be for the best interests of the town.

Harry M. Richards, inspector for the town, reported that the filtration plant building is practically complete.

Former Student At FSTC Gets Award

FROSTBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Powers, Hospital Road, have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Mary I. Kent, received an award in mathematics of $125 at a luncheon at the Willard Hotel, Washington, last Wednesday which marked the 1957 Engineers and Architects Day.

Mrs. Kent is a graduate of Beall High School and State Teachers College and is now teaching at Montgomery Hull Junior High School.

Choir Elects

MT. SAVAGE—The choir of St. George's Episcopal Church held election of officers recently. The following were elected: President, Raymond Yutzy; secretary-treasurer, Myrna Bridges and librarian, Rosemarie Houck. Miss Houck will serve until September 1 when the post will be filled by Janet Vizza.

Refreshments were served by Rev. Stanley Schwind, Rosemarie Houck, Janet Vizza, and Mrs. H. O. Porter.

W.Va. Senate-House Agree On Bill For Centralized Finance

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 28 (AP)—The Senate concurred unanimously today with House amendments and sent on to the governor a measure setting up a new Department of Centralized Finance and Administration.

Headed by a director drawing a $10,000 annual salary, the new department would take over altogether or in part numerous financial and accounting responsibilities now carried out by other State agencies.

The Senate concurred without dissent in House amendments to these other two bills to:

Make operation of a motor vehicle without a valid inspection sticker a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $100.

Provide for the appointment of three duly qualified commissioners to appraise property when persons entitled to proceeds from it cannot agree on the value.

Sorority Plans Benefit Style Show Thursday

KEYSER—Members of Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Keyser, are very active in their plans for the style show and card party to be held in the Moose ballroom, Thursday, March 7, for the benefit of the Heart Fund campaign. The guidance committee, Marion Hartman, Faye Workman, Dorothy Hamilton, Carol Pickard, Naomi Boor, Gwynn Blundon and Patricia Funderburg, announced they expect a good response in helping to build up the fund.

Much interest is being centered on the affair in local business planning and by the citizens generally. All hair styling for the models will be done through courtesy of Monroe Hair Stylist; make up by Merle Norman studio, and all floral arrangements by Leading Florist.

Music for the dual affair will be presented by Pulliam Music Store, and the work of transportation of equipment will be carried out by Stanley Spencer, who will move all props for staging before and after the show.

Fashions shown will be Shear's Shapiro, Maurice's and Coffman and Fisher, combining to show styles in children's, misses and women's wear.

The card party will follow the style show, featuring canasta, "500," bridge and set back with prizes to the winners in each event.

The sorority announces that tickets may be obtained at any of the stores, or from sorority members.

Sunday School Class Aids Hospital Fund

Heart Crusaders In Eastern Part Of County

This group of students at Flintstone represent the corps of volunteers who conducted the Heart Sunday and Heart Fund campaign in Flintstone and its surrounding area. All students at Flintstone High School and active in school affairs, they are winding up their campaign which had the endorsement and sponsorship of the Flintstone Student Council.

Flintstone School Council Adopts Heart Fund Project

FLINTSTONE — Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland, the young people of Flintstone and the Flintstone School Area, made up the volunteer corps which made the Heart Sunday solicitation in a vast section of the county east of Cumberland.

The Student Council at Flintstone High School adopted the project under the direct leadership of Edward "Ted" Robinette, Student Council president, organized teams and are now in the process of completing their tabulations to make a final report.

Mrs. Roland, community Heart chairman for the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association said that when the students volunteered to take over the ask of the campaign, her troubles in finding a corps of workers were over. She praised the efforts, thoughtfulness, cooperation and enthusiasm of the students.

The following members of the school made up solicitation teams in the 23-area sections:

Why Pick On The Savings Bonds?

Shrinking purchasing power of the government's own savings bonds has become the classic illustration of inflation's horrible effects on people with fixed incomes. But it's rather strange that so much attention should be riveted on E bonds when inflation is diminishing the future purchasing power of every other form of savings payable in fixed numbers of dollars.

It may be true that a $75 savings bond bought 10 years ago and cashed in now with accrued interest would be worth $3 less than its original price in terms of purchasing power. But the same would be true of dollars in any other form of savings payable in fixed sums.

The tremendous sums going into insurance and pension contracts are subject to the same loss of purchasing power that occurs in the case of government bonds. This is likewise true of building and loan shares and corporate, state or municipal bonds. It's true of money in bank accounts.

So the talk of having the government issue an "inflation-proof" bond is highly unrealistic unless there is some recognition of what's also happening to other fixed dollar investments. The idea of putting an escalator into government bonds has caught hold in some foreign countries. But a government providing such bonds acknowledges that it no longer has much hope of curbing inflation.

A government doing that should know what to expect. By accepting the inevitability of further inflation it puts the people on notice to get their savings into any form of investment that offers an apparently safe haven. The difficulties and the absurdities of trying to put escalators under every conceivable form of savings are obvious. Contractual acknowledgment of inflation would create a panicky state of mind that almost certainly would spawn still more inflation.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Does He Mean It?

I received a letter from a lawyer, Francis C. Lowthorp. Maybe the lawyer is pulling my leg. Maybe he is a humorist. He begins thus:

"I am deeply grieved to read your attack upon our distinguished guests, the foreign ambassadors, which appeared in your column of February 18. To me it is sad that the mere killing of an obscure and unimportant American citizen on the streets of New York City should blind a man of your intelligence to the absolute necessity of preserving the high privileges and prerogative of these servants of humanity who graciously come to our shores, at our invitations, to carry on the sublime work of the United Nations and assist in cementing the warm bonds of friendship and mutual esteem which so firmly unite us with the great and good Marxists like Mr. Brezhnev."

The reference to the "obscure and unimportant American citizen" is to a woman who was walking on the sidewalk with a little girl, her daughter, both attending to their own business which was to buy groceries for their family, when along came an automobile that jumped on the sidewalk, and killed the woman. The car was driven by the Yugoslav ambassador to the United Nations who enjoys diplomatic immunity by virtue of an agreement between the United States and the United Nations which I recently was told is not in good order. Because it is not in good order, the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security served a subpoena on Dr. Ludwik Rajchman, Polish delegate to Unicef, who is believed by the Senate Committee, on advice and information, to have been Alger Hiss's bossman in the conspiracy to assassinate Alger Hiss.

At any rate, Rajchman threw the subpoena on the floor, whereupon the Senate Committee sent him a telegram giving him what for. Upon receipt of this, Rajchman got himself a seat on an airplane and walked forth to his beloved Poland and Unicef, which when translated into English means the United Nations Children's Fund, will have to do without him. It is interesting to note that Ludwik Rajchman made no attempt to test his diplomatic immunity. It will be of value to note that the Committee believes that the contract between the United States and the United Nations concerning diplomatic immunity is legally not sufficiently binding so that a subpoena would stand up when served on a diplomat.

If the Senate Committee is on sound ground, why do not the police authorities in New York arrest the Yugoslav diplomat whose joy-ride on a sidewalk resulted in the killing of this American woman who although as Mr. Lowthorp says was "obscure and unimportant," nevertheless was entitled to use our sidewalks to go to a grocery store?

Diplomatic immunity is dangerous in a city like New York where there is little space for honest residents to say nothing of diplomats who double and triple park, sometimes in front of fire hydrants, some of them not being familiar with such devices which they do not have in their weak and backward countries.

Mr. Lowthorp writes further:

"You carp at diplomatic immunity. For shame, sir. Has it not been proved in all modern times, has it not been exposed and commended by the State Department and is it not therefore, ipso facto, indisputably wise and right? And it is particularly distressing that you direct your unwarranted tirade against the representative of a more or less undeveloped country which is struggling so hard to be rid of the shackles of Moscow. Would you deny the protection accorded the British ambassador to the more humble but equally worthy legate of the Kish-Ka-Bob Kingdoms, Rug Dealer and Petroleum Potentates? . . ."

Forsooth, I hang my head in shame at the very thought of not taking seriously the immunities of the lace-seller's and camel driver's and date eater's kingdoms. Nay, I should include Ali Baba and the 40 Thieves. I am contrite. The next time Krishna Menon speaks for seven hours, I shall listen until exhausted. I shall go to his Jewish physician for my Milton. For be it known in Gath and wherever anyone else is interested that despite Nasser's protestations, the physician who rescued Krishna Menon from the stifling effects upon his heart of his own speech-making, is of the faith of the Israeli who are to be crushed into the sands of the desert by the descendants of Shem and Ham.

Dulles And Congress: A Marriage Of Necessity

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The relations between Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the Democratic Congressional leadership are rather like those of a married couple for whom the blush has long been off the rose, but who realize that they have to live together for the sake of the children.

The marriage came very close to the divorce stage recently. And though hasty and partially successful efforts to patch things up have been made in the last few days, there is still bitter resentment against Dulles simmering on Capitol Hill.

The sources of the Democratic bitterness are various. They are in part, of course, political. Just as the far more violent Republican bitterness against Dean Acheson was political. There is for instance an obvious political element in the unambiguous Democratic opposition to the Administration's policy on sanctions against Israel. The American Jewish community is overwhelmingly pro-Israel, and the Democrats are far more dependent than the Republicans on Jewish votes and Jewish financial support.

But the anti-Dulles feeling among the Democratic leaders is not exclusively of political origin by any means. Many Senators have genuine doubts about the wisdom of a policy which may see this country again linked up with President Nasser and the Soviets against Israel and our major allies. And memories of Republican campaign boasts about the "dynamic" foreign policy increase the Democrats' resentment that things should have come to such an untidy pass. The resentment has also been increased by the Dulles technique for dealing with Congress. To return to the marriage analogy, a wife can influence a husband successfully only if he does not know she is doing so. Dulles has used blatantly obvious methods of influencing Congress.

For example, the "Eisenhower Doctrine" was given in substance to the press before the Congressional leaders had heard anything about it, and it was then presented as a matter of life-and-death urgency. Yet when Dulles testified on the proposal, it soon became obvious that he could produce no hard evidence of urgency, and neither he nor anyone else had any specific ideas at all about how, when, or where the money or the Presidential authority were to be used. "I feel," remarked the respected Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, after hearing Dulles testify, "like a man in a darkened room wrestling with a moon-beam."

Dulles has also shown a tendency to display a certain condescension in his dealing with Congress. Until very recently, his meetings with the Congressional leaders have been in the nature of briefings—"Dulles travels"—rather than real consultations. It is as tactless in executive-legislative relations as it is in marriage for one side to do all the talking.

Dulles has been tactless in other ways. For example, in his failure to answer an important letter from Senate Majority Leader Johnson for almost two weeks. ("I have plenty of scratch paper already," Johnson is said to have remarked coldly when a meaningless reply was

Alger Blames Loss Of Ambassador Position On Postmaster General

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Fred Alger, Ike's Ambassador to Belgium, is sore as a boil over being relieved of his job. A staunch Republican who contributed $1,500 to Ike's last campaign, the Ambassador didn't expect to be shelved.

Alger is especially sore because he is being recalled right in the middle of the big Belgian fair. He had worked hard to organize American exhibits to the fair.

Ambassador Alger once ran for governor of Michigan against "Soapy" Williams, but like all other Republicans who tackled "Soapy," he got licked. In matrimony he was more successful. He won the delightful Suzette Dewey, daughter of ex-Congressman Charles Dewey of Chicago. She was a great asset to the U. S. in Brussels.

Alger is now going back to his home in Detroit with blood in his eye. He blames his forced resignation on Postmaster General Summerfield, a power in Michigan politics, and Chairman of the GOP National Committee in the 1952 election.

Alger confides to friends that he is going to see that Summerfield's political power in Michigan is shorn.

Note 1—Perhaps Alger's political demise may be due in part to the fact that he was not a heavy contributor. Thought he put up $1,500, this was low compared with the $60,000 from Clare Boothe Luce, former Ambassador to Italy, and her husband, publisher of the supposedly impartial Time, Life, and Fortune; also compared with the $62,000 from John Hay Whitney, who becomes Ambassador to England; and the $36,000 from Douglas Dillon, retiring Ambassador to France.

Note 2—Dillon was one of the best postwar ambassadors to serve in France, but got in wrong with the State Department when he told the truth about he real reason why the French and British pulled out of Suez. He said it was fear of Russia, not the United Nations.

Mailbag

Mrs. Douglas McKay, Salem Ore.—I have your letter calling me a liar for reporting that your husband, the former Secretary of the Interior, left Washington prior to the inauguration because he was not invited to the ceremony.

I note that the reason he did not attend was because he went on a vacation to Mexico on January 11. For your information, we did our best to call your husband, but were informed he was traveling.

However, officials of the Republican National Committee who were handling invitations definitely stated that your husband was not and had not been invited. Nevertheless, I am delighted to congratulate you on coming so vigorously to the defense of your husband. In my opinion, official Washington could use a few more ladies like you and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson. More power to you and I'm delighted to know that Governor McKay is "in the pink of health and spirits."

Still another case of backstage wire-pulling at the Federal Communications Commission has come to light, this time involving a Pennsylvania GOP Congressman, Rep. Alvin R. Bush, who partly owns the radio station for which he pressed.

The station is WPPA, Williamsport, Pa., operated by Williamsport Radio Broadcasting Associates, in which Rep. Bush owns 400 shares of stock. The company wants to build a new radio station, WARC, in nearby Milton, Pa.

The granting of an FCC permit to WPPA for a second station is vigorously opposed by competitors in Williamsport and Milton, who claim they couldn't survive against a two-station operation serving roughly the same area.

Such multiple ownership of radio or TV stations serving the same area is barred by FCC regulations, unless there are special reasons for granting an exception. Despite this rule, the FCC granted a permit to Williamsport Radio Broadcasting Associates, October 5, 1955, without hearings and without explaining why it waived its own regulation.

Competitors of WPPA subsequently protested the award, leading to oral commissions before the full commission on December 3, 1956.

Apparently worried over the delay, manager Woodrow W. Ott of Williamsport Radio Broadcasting Associates wrote to his fellow stockholder, Rep. Bush, asking that Bush and Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) intercede with FCC Chairman George McConaughy.

"Dear Al," wrote Ott on December 24. "As you know, the record before the FCC on our Milton application is now complete. There remains only the final decision of the commission. Our attorneys advise that it may be some time before the commission acts on this final decision unless we are able to convince them that early action is necessary."

"With this in mind," Ott requested, "would you please at your earliest convenience make arrangements for both yourself and Senator Martin to make individual contacts with the FCC Chairman in the hope that you can get some early action."

With a financial stake in the outcome, Bush should have stayed out of the case. However, he readily complied. First he had a staff member contact McConaughy's office by telephone. Then he followed through with a letter to the FCC Chairman, January 8, 1957.

"I shall appreciate information on which to base a reply to the attached letter from Mr. Woodrow W. Ott, manager, Williamsport Radio Station WPPA," wrote Bush. "Please return Mr. Ott's letter with your reply."

Whether Congressman Bush's intercession influences the final FCC decision isn't as important as the fact that a Congressman exerted pressure on a supposedly independent regulatory body in favor of a radio station in which he is financially interested.

Gina Lollobrigida, who is an "expecting mother, recently said, "I hope it is a girl. They are much greater fun especially when they are very young." Do the majority of mothers prefer daughters to sons? It would seem that way because many more girls are adopted than boys. Of course, it is much more expensive to rear a daughter than a son but perhaps the women have in mind the old rhyme:

A daughter is your daughter For all of her life But a son is only a son Until he gets a wife.

BOOKS ON MARRIAGE

Mrs. K. writes: One of my girl friends is getting married soon and I would like to give her a book on the subject as a shower gift. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our list of books on marriage and sex.

PEDICULOSIS

Mrs. D. writes: How are head lice caught?

REPLY

They don't jump like fleas, so it must be through contact with or the common use of infested linen, combs, or hats. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on head lice and nits.

THIN TEENS

Mrs. W. writes: Why is it so hard for most teen-agers to gain weight, even though they eat heartily?

REPLY

Because they are using some of the energy derived from food on growth. Little is stored.

SLEEP ANY OLD WAY

G. J. writes: Is it harmful to sleep on the left side, the back, or the abdomen?

REPLY

No. If it were, I would have been dead a long time ago.

ASKING

Golden Meat Loaf Is Menu-Saver

Every recipe file needs a quick "menu-saver" to fill the bill when unexpected guests arrive, or when the day is just too busy for time-involved cooking. And an ideal choice is this especially good golden meat loaf. Appropriately named, this loaf is made with sun-filled corn flakes (corn soaks up more sun than any other grain) to step up the flavor and extend the ground beef and pork.

Potatoes can bake while the meat loaf is in the oven, and at serving time complete the menu with tomato slices, rolls and a beverage.

Golden Meat Loaf
4 cups corn flakes
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 pound ground pork
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup chopped onions
1 cup grated raw carrots
1/4 cup chopped parsley

When you use baking soda for leavening in a recipe, add the soda to the flour and other dry ingredients and sift so that it will not begin to act until the liquid is added.

Coffee Fig Cup

—a new and simply elegant dessert and a nice little time saver besides.

About 20 California Dried Figs
3 cups cold water
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. instant coffee
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Place the Figs and cold water in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, then cover and lower heat to simmer for 20 minutes. Add the sugar and the instant coffee and stir together gently in order to keep the Figs whole. Cover and simmer for another 20 minutes. Serve slightly warm around a serving of vanilla ice cream. Top with chopped nuts if desired. Also wonderful with thin sliced coconut on top.

Crush corn flakes slightly. Combine with remaining ingredients and mix well. Spread in greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/4-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 1/4 hours. Yield: 8 servings.

Baked Eggs In Corned Beef Hash

1 quart or 2 (1-pound) cans corned beef hash
1 pint soft 1/2-inch bread cubes
1/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
6 eggs
2 tablespoons light cream
Combine corned beef hash, soft bread cubes, milk and onion. Press mixture into a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Make 6 square indentations in hash for eggs. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 15 minutes. Remove from oven and break one egg into each indentation. Pour 1 teaspoon cream over each egg. Return to oven for 15 to 20 minutes longer until eggs are set. Cut into squares and serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Royal Chicken 'n Cheese On Waffles

(Makes 4 servings)
Waffles:
2 cups of sifted flour
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
2 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/2 cups water
6 tablespoons salad oil
Sift together flour, instant nonfat dry milk powder, sugar, baking powder and salt. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat together egg yolks, water and salad oil; add dry ingredients. Beat until blended; fold in egg whites. Bake in waffle iron according to manufacturers' directions.

For winter mornings, serve a platter of grilled sausages and Eggs Baked in English Muffins.

Brighten His Breakfast

If the man in your house takes pride in reporting the reading on his outside thermometer on blustery winter mornings the chances are that his appetite, at the same time, starts soaring. This is the season for hearty man-sized breakfasts — little pig sausages and eggs at their best, baked in English muffins.

Baked eggs add welcome variety and the use of table-ready English muffins, purchased from bakery or food mart, is the easiest way to bake eggs. Breakfasts need to be simple all the way with no later fussy washing of sticky baking pans.

Eggs Baked in English Muffins
4 large English muffins
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
4 eggs
4 teaspoons cream or milk
1/4 cup grated process cheese
Using a 3-inch cookie cutter, remove a center circle from each English muffin, but allow crust and bottom layer to remain. Lift out circle with a fork. Spread inside of muffins and circles with butter. Place on a baking sheet. Break an egg into each cutout muffin and cover it with 1 teaspoon cream and 1 tablespoon of cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 15 minutes, or until eggs are soft-cooked and set. Bake muffin cutouts and serve separately.

Poached Eggs On Parmesan Toast

1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
3 slices enriched toast
1 tablespoon finely grated Parmesan cheese
3 poached eggs
Spread 1 teaspoon butter on each slice of toast. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon Parmesan cheese on each slice of buttered toast. Top each slice of Parmesan toast with a poached egg. Serve immediately. Yield: 3 servings.

Bacon And Egg Fondue

8 slices bacon
1/4 cup bacon fat
1/2 cup flour
Dash, pepper
1 1/2 cups milk
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 1/2 cups 1/2-inch bread cubes
3 egg whites
Fry bacon. Remove two slices when only partially cooked; continue frying remaining bacon until it is crisp. Crumble crisp bacon. Allow 1/4 cup bacon fat to remain in pan. Blend in flour and pepper. Add milk gradually and cook over low heat until thick. Gradually add white sauce to beaten egg yolks. Blend in soft bread cubes and crumbled crisp bacon. Beat egg whites until stiff and dry. Fold into sauce mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Cube partially cooked slices of bacon and sprinkle on top. Set casserole in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven (325° F.) for one hour. Serve with catsup or tomato sauce, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

Endive Casserole With Chicken

4 heads Belgian endive
1 tsp. Maggi Seasoning
2 ozs. butter
4 slices chicken, roasted
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup white Bordeaux table wine
Buttered toast, optional

Allow 1 large head Belgian endive for each serving. More of desired. Wash endive carefully; wipe dry with paper towel.

Use oblong casserole which can be placed over flame. Place butter in casserole or heavy pan; melt butter over medium flame; add Maggi seasoning. Gently place each head Belgian endive in casserole. Brown endive lightly 2 minutes on each side. Add small quantity water; allow Belgian endive to simmer uncovered 15 minutes. Remove casserole from flame. Place chicken slices over endive; pour white Bordeaux table wine over chicken. Place casserole in pre-heated medium oven for 10 minutes or until chicken is thoroughly heated.

Serve piping hot over buttered toast on preheated plates by arranging as follows: buttered toast, chicken slice and top with Belgian endive. If more sauce is desired, use additional melted butter seasoned with itsp. Maggi Seasoning. If wine is omitted from recipe, use chicken broth or additional water.

Meat In The Reducing Diet

Lean meat is important in the reducing diet. It's a fact . . . meat is a rich source of excellent quality protein which is essential for keeping the body in proper balance, especially when calories are greatly decreased.

One-Dish Meal Of Stew

Piping hot tomatoes circle the top of this oven stew! By using the canned stewed tomatoes extra flavor is added. This recipe should become your favorite because it makes a really wonderful stew and—only one dish is used in both making and serving it. There are plenty of onions, carrots, celery and rice in with the beef, so the stew is a meal in itself.

Cooking fat is melted in a large baking dish in the oven. The floured beef is added and allowed to become nice and brown. After adding water, the dish is covered so the beef may cook until a partly tender. Then the vegetables are added, the dish is covered so the vegetables may cook until tender. An easy main dish, isn't it?

Bake-A-Stew One Dish Meal
INGREDIENTS:
3 tablespoons cooking fat or drippings

1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 pound stew beef cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes
1 clove garlic, minced
1 bay leaf, broken in half
5 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
3 cups hot water
2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice
1 cup thinly sliced celery
4 medium carrots, cut in thin 2 inch long strips
2 cups coarsely chopped onions
1 No. 303 can stewed tomatoes (about 2 cups)

METHOD: Pre-heat the oven to 450°F. Put the cooking fat in a 3-quart oven dish. Allow the fat to melt. Cover the beef with the flour. Place the beef in the oven dish. Allow to brown on all sides, turning occasionally. This will take about 15 to 20 minutes.

Add the garlic, bay leaf, 2 teaspoons of the salt, 1/4 teaspoon of the pepper and 1 cup of the water. Cover the oven dish with a lid or with aluminum foil pressing the foil around the sides. Turn the heat down to 350°F. Cook 45 minutes. Add the rice and 2 cups of the water. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of salt. Add the celery, carrots and onions. Sprinkle with 2 teaspoons of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the black pepper. Arrange the stewed tomatoes around the edge of the baking dish. Cover and cook until the vegetables are tender, about 1 1/2 hours. If too much liquid remains, uncover and cook about 10 or 15 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Serve from the dish in which the stew bakes. This recipe makes 6 generous servings.

Tasty Waffle Toast

Here's a quick and easy way to glamorize toast. Cut the crusts from not too dry, thinly sliced bread, brushing the trimmed bread with melted butter and toasting it in the waffle iron. Then store in your home food freezer until needed.

3 cups toasted bread crumbs; 3 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted; 4 Winesap or Golden Delicious apples; 3/4 cup brown sugar; 1/4 tsp. nutmeg; 1/2 tsp. cinnamon; rind of 1/2 lemon; juice of 1/2 lemon; 3/4 cup hot water; grated cheddar cheese.
Preheat oven to moderate (350°F.). Mix crumbs with melted butter or margarine and place about 1/2 the crumb mixture in bottom of greased baking dish. Pare apples, core and slice thin. Place half the sliced apple over crumb mixture. Sprinkle with sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon, lemon rind and half the lemon juice. Repeat, ending with a layer of toasted crumbs. Four water over all, and bake 45 mins. Cool slightly. Serve with whipped cream, sprinkled with grated cheddar cheese. Serves 4.

Orange Bavarian Dessert

Orange is a favorite flavor so you'll always prefer when you serve this dessert. It's good for you too, because of the orange juice and milk. The orange section garnish makes it a lovely looking dessert. The orange juice and orange flavored gelatin produce a delicate and luscious looking color. It's easy to make the dessert fancy looking by molding it in a ring mold or some other mold. Use individual molds, if you wish.

The dessert is inexpensive because the base is low cost rice. Rice is cooked directly over the heat, first in water then milk. Some sugar and vanilla are added. A mixture of sugar and orange flavored gelatin dissolved in orange juice is stirred into the rice. When cold, some whipped cream is folded in.

Along The Potomac by Rep. De Witt S. Hyde

Funds for construction of veterans' hospitals are under House study. Last week I appeared before the Veterans' Affairs Committee urging its support of additional funds for construction of the new Veterans' Hospital for this area. Thurmont will have a new Post Office when a site is selected by the Post Office Department. Officials have not completed their review of the inspector's report on the two assignable land options at Thurmont.

Part of the cost of the Hagerstown sewage treatment plant will be borne by the Federal Government. Under the Water Pollution Act passed last year, Hagerstown will receive a federal grant of $115,252, or approximately 30% of the cost of the plan. Little Youghiogheny Watershed Project has received Senate Agriculture Committee approval and I expect the House Agriculture Committee to approve the project.

Winter Salad

Chill a large salad bowl. Break washed and dried salad greens into the cool bowl. Include lettuce, cress, romaine, endive and parsley, if possible. Then add bite-size chunks of canned fruits, unpeeled apple, segments of grapefruit and oranges and several grated fresh carrots. Then add California Dried Figs and some seedless raisins that have stood for 5 minutes in boiling hot water and then have been drained and cooled. With scissors, snip the stems off the figs and cut them into bite-size pieces. Then add the following dressing and toss to cover each bit of the salad.

Special Fruit and Oil Dressing
1/2 cup syrup from canned pineapple or peaches
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cider Vinegar
1/2 cup orange juice
1 cup salad oil
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. paprika
salt and pepper to taste
Shake together and add to salad. Season salad to taste, depending upon tartness and combination of fruits. Fine for luncheon served with big toasted cheese and ham sandwiches, potato or corn chips, with a hot beverage.

INTERNATIONAL MILLING COMPANY

Turn breakfast into an event—serve hot Jiffy Coconut Ring with butter or margarine and marmalade.

Jiffy Coconut Ring

In just about the time it takes to turn out a batch of rolled biscuits, you can also make this Jiffy Coconut Ring.

Made from a biscuit dough, the simple coffee cake has the glamorous touch of a luscious coconut, brown sugar and nut filling. Appealing also is the ring into which you shape the coffee cake.

Any good breakfast becomes better when it includes a nutritious hot bread such as Jiffy Coconut Ring. When you bake or buy products made with enriched flour, you gain a nutritional advantage of three B vitamins and food iron. Breads are just one part of a healthy breakfast. They fit right in with fruit or fruit juice, milk, eggs or meat, and enriched, restored or whole grain cereals.

Your baker's enriched breads are stand-bys for good breakfasting, too. Enriched white bread is almost indispensable for toast. Make a point to add occasional variety to the morning fare with raisin, cinnamon or whole wheat bread and with sweet rolls and coffeecakes.

Jiffy Coconut Ring

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 tablespoon salt
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk
Melted butter or margarine
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg and milk and add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to rectangle 1/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with Coconut Filling. Roll up like jelly roll, sealing edge. Form into ring on lightly greased baking sheet. With scissors cut through ring almost to center, in slices about 1 inch thick. Turn adjoining slices of dough in opposite directions and stand on end. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 minutes.

Coconut Filling

1/2 cup chopped shredded coconut
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons enriched bread crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Combine all ingredients and mix well blended. Makes 1 coffee cake.

Zesty Coleslaw

Cabbage — big, solid, well formed heads of cabbage — is among the plentiful bargain vegetables this winter. And it's one of the best vitamin-filled vegetables too, if you treat it properly. Cook quartered heads of cabbage in a small amount of water until fork tender. Remember if it has a strong odor after cooking, you've cooked it too long; so, for best flavor, cook it just until wilted.

If you're preparing coleslaw, shred the raw cabbage no more than about an hour before serving and soak it in ice water to keep it crisp. Raw cabbage slaw is a wonderfully good source of vitamin C, so put the salad on your menu as often as possible. To vary the flavor, you might try this tangy salad dressing as the binding agent. It uses low calorie buttermilk spiced with a bit of mustard, paprika and celery seed.

Tangy Salad Dressing

2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1 cup buttermilk
Combine dry ingredients in top of double boiler. Add vinegar and buttermilk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Chill. Makes 1 cup or enough for 4 cups shredded cabbage.

Nutritionists agree that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. One-fourth to one-third of the day's food should be eaten at the breakfast table, they advise.

Use Chicken Bits In Puffy Souffle

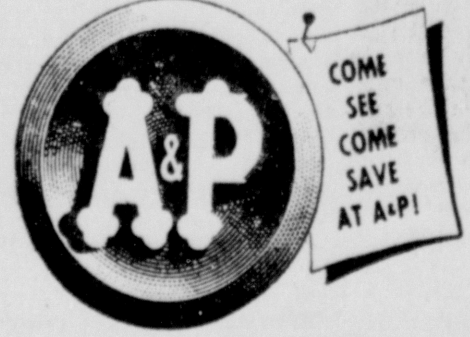

One cup of cooked chicken left-overs is all you need to make this light, puffy souffle. The recipe has a base of thick cream sauce and eggs.

Cook 2 teaspoons chopped onion in 1/4 cup butter until tender; stir in 1/4 cup flour. Gradually add 1 cup milk and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened.

Stir in 1 cup diced, cooked chicken and season to taste. Beat 4 egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; add to chicken mixture. Fold in 4 stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour mixture into buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole; set in pan of hot water; bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

New Recipes For Navy Beans

Beans are popular with small fry the male contingent, teenagers and, in fact, the whole family. Too often though, we fall back on the same recipe time and again, and although its popularity has been proven, a new way to prepare the lowly navy bean can be a happy surprise. We consulted with the chefs of two famous hotels and each has a favorite recipe that gives the navy bean a gourmet touch. Try these on your family and guests.

Navy Beans Bourguignonne
Soak 1 pound of navy beans in water overnight. Boil them slowly with one medium onion, pinch of salt, few sprigs of parsley, and 1 bay leaf. When cooked, strain, put the beans in a pan, cover with milk and let cook for a few minutes. Mix one tablespoon of flour with three ounces butter and add it to the beans and stir gently. Add a little chopped parsley, one small clove of crushed garlic and keep the preparation on a light fire for a few minutes. Finish by adding four ounces of fresh cream.

Navy Beans with Tomato
Soak 1 pound of navy beans in cold water for a few hours before cooking. Cook with 1/4 lb. salt pork, 1 onion, 2 or 3 cloves, 1 carrot and a muslin bag containing 3 sprigs of parsley, 1 bay leaf, a little thyme, 1 stalk of celery and 1 clove of garlic. When cooked, remove muslin bag and season beans with salt and pepper to taste. Brown 1 chopped onion in a saucepan with 2 tablespoons of butter. Add small clove of crushed garlic, the salt pork with which the beans were cooked (cut in pieces) and 2 tomatoes, peeled and chopped. Add to the beans, mix thoroughly and serve.

Egg Cookery

Frequently cooking terms that are entirely misleading to the beginner in the kitchen are attached to foods. Simple egg cookery is one of the most obvious examples.

Many persons erroneously refer to eggs cooked in the shell until firm as "hard-boiled." Actually boiling is the worst thing you can do to a delicate egg, for it makes it tough and rubbery.

Proper way to hard-cook eggs is to cover them with cold water in a deep saucepan. Place over medium heat and bring to a rapid boil, then turn off heat. Cover pan and let stand for 15 minutes.

New meat vogue! Rolled, braised flank steak has its flavor complemented by a zesty bread stuffing.

Flank Steak Goes Modern

Flank steak is especially favored for its rich beef flavor. Being a boneless, less-tender cut of meat, it is first scored to make it more tender. The meat can be pounded instead of scored. This meat cut is very tender when braised.

Flank Steak, Creole Style

1 large beef flank steak
1/2 pound pork sausage
1 cup moist bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons lard
2 tablespoons salt
1/2 cup chopped onions
2 bay leaves
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped green pepper, if desired
1 cup water
3 tablespoons flour

Pound or lightly score flank steak on both sides. Combine sausage, bread crumbs and parsley and mix well. Spread sausage mixture on flank steak and roll as a jelly roll. Tie steak with string and brown in lard. Pour off drippings. Add salt, onions, bay leaves, tomatoes and green pepper. Cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until tender. Remove steak and bay leaves, pour off excess fat, add water to cooking liquid and thicken for gravy. Yield: 6 servings.

Baked Macaroni And Frankfurters

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1-1/2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk; 3 tablespoons flour; 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt; dash of pepper; 1/2 package (8-oz.) sharp process cheese food, shredded; 2 cups elbow macaroni, cooked and drained; 1/4 cup whole cloves; 1 pound (8-9) frankfurters.

Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, salt and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add cheese, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce in 2 quart casserole. Insert about 10 cloves evenly into each frankfurter. Arrange frankfurters on top of macaroni. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 25 minutes or until cheese sauce bubbles.

Frozen By Mistake? Milk Still OK

Occasionally on very cold mornings you may discover that the bottles or cartons of milk left at the door by your milkman appear to be partly frozen.

If you've had this experience, many of you will be happy to learn you need not worry about this milk. It will not be unfavorably affected if you place the Department deficits and to promote better buildings and equipment where it will gradually thaw.

Continental Fish Sauce

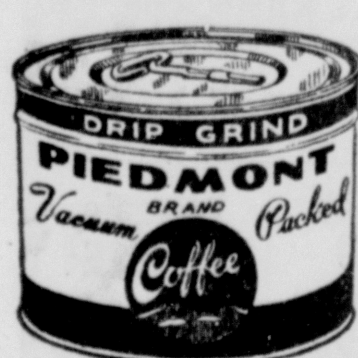

Crush 2 small cloves of garlic in 1/4 tsp. of Sterling Salt. Combine with 1/2 tsp. curry powder, 1 or 2 drops lemon juice, and 1 tsp. of Worcestershire Sauce. Then add plain mayonnaise until desired amount of sauce is made.

You add extra zest and sparkle to any dish with Sterling Salt's pure, snow-white "sparks of flavor." Plain or Iodized. Damp proof.

Favorite Hot Breakfast For Cold Weather

Start the day with an adequate breakfast. For those people whose doctor has prescribed a low-fat diet, a basic cereal breakfast pattern is ideal because it is low in fat and low in cholesterol. Modern hot breakfast cereals are so easy to prepare and serve the family. Quick or regular types take just a short preparation time.

A serving of oatmeal with milk contributes protein, valuable B-complex vitamins, minerals, and food energy at low cost. For variety serve brown sugar with the cereal and milk serving.

Add This Sauce To Spice Shelf

When you are replenishing your stock of favorite herbs, spices, and other seasonings, don't forget to include a small jar of brown gravy sauce.

A tablespoon or so of this head molasses type of product is called upon frequently by the best cooks to impart extra flavor and rich, dark color to gravies and stews, even to gingerbread and spicy cookies.

Real Creamy Rice Pudding

You must try this rice dessert right away! It stays so creamy and good even after it's cold. The egg yolk yellow pudding looks so pretty with the tiny white meringues over the top, and each meringue has a small teaspoonful of currant jelly in the center.

The rice is cooked first in water, then in milk. Then some butter or margarine, vanilla and egg yolks are stirred in. Part of the beaten, sweetened egg whites are folded in to add fluffiness. The rest of the meringue mixture is used to decorate the top of the dessert. Try to serve this pudding warm. If there's any left, it's delicious served cold the next day.

Creamy Rice Pudding,
Currant Meringues

Ingredients:

1 cup water
1/2 cup uncooked white rice
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup beet or cane sugar
2 eggs, separated and at room temperature
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons beet or cane sugar
Currant jelly

METHOD: Put the water and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Stir in the milk. Cover and continue to cook over the low heat until the milk is absorbed, about 40 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Beat the egg whites until foamy. Add the dash of salt and a small amount of the sugar. Continue beating, gradually adding the rest of the sugar. Beat until stiff. Fold half the egg whites into the hot rice mixture. Pour the rice mixture into a serving dish. Drop the rest of the beaten egg whites from a teaspoon over the top of the rice mixture to form tiny meringues.

Place a small amount of the jelly in the center of each meringue. Serve warm, if possible. If the dessert is held any length of time before serving, cover and store in the refrigerator. This recipe makes 6 generous servings.

Apple Filbert Cobbler

Winesap or golden Delicious apples, sliced to make 3 cups; 1 cup sugar; 1 tsp. cornstarch; 1 cup boiling water; 1/2 tsp. cinnamon; 1 tsp. butter or margarine; 1 cup flour; 1 tsp. sugar; 1-1/2 tps. baking powder; 1/2 tsp. salt; 3 tps. shortening; 1/2 cup chopped filberts; 1/2 cup milk.

Arrange sliced apples in bottom of 10-inch round baking dish. Combine sugar with cornstarch, stir in boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Stir in cinnamon and butter and pour over apples. Sift flour, measure and sift again with the 1 tsp. sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add filberts. Lightly stir in milk. Drop dough by teaspoonfuls over apples. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 40 mins. or until apples are tender and top is lightly browned. Serves 6.

Hungarian Goulash

The Hungarian national dish is "gulyas" or "gulyashus"—meaning herdsman's meat. It is a mixture of beef, vegetables and, of course, paprika. The secret of the Hungarian gulyas is the paprika and the long slow cooking.

Ingredients:

2 tablespoons fat or drippings
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 lbs. stew beef (or ground beef)
1 cup water
2 strips bacon, coarsely chopped
2 1/2 cups coarsely chopped onions
3 tablespoons and 1 teaspoon paprika
2 teaspoons salt
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt

METHOD: Melt the fat in a skillet. Cover the beef with the flour. (If ground beef is used, form into firm balls about the size of walnuts. Roll in the flour.) Brown the beef on all sides in the fat. (If ground beef balls are used, start with 1 tablespoon of fat, adding more if necessary.) Put the beef in a large kettle or Dutch oven. Rinse the skillet well with the 1 cup water. Heat if necessary to loosen the brownings. Add the water to the beef. Cover and cook slowly for 1 hour.

While the beef cooks, fry the bacon in the skillet. Remove the bacon. Add the onions to the skillet and cook until they begin to brown. Stir in the paprika and 2 teaspoons salt. Return the bacon to the skillet.

After the beef cooks 1 hour in the kettle or Dutch oven, add the onion and bacon. Pour the tomatoes into the skillet. Break the tomatoes into small pieces. Stir the tomatoes to loosen any remaining onion and paprika. Add to the beef mixture. Cover and cook slowly until the beef is tender but not soft, about 1 hour.

About 30 minutes before the beef is done, put the rice, water and 1 teaspoon salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

To serve, arrange the rice on a large platter. Top with the beef and some of the gravy. If necessary serve the rest of the gravy in a separate dish. This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Bake Meringue Atop Cherry Ice Cream

Bake ice cream? Few adventurous cooks are surprised at this suggestion when the baking applies to the meringue covering on ice cream. Baked Alaska, as such desserts are known, have innumerable variations.

Here is a slightly different one known simple as baked ice cream pie. The filling is cherry vanilla ice cream. It is a natural for this rich dessert, for the tang and color of the fruit is just what the meringue needs.

Baked Ice Cream Pie (9-inch pie)

3 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
1 qt. cherry vanilla ice cream
Beat egg whites with salt until stiff but not dry. Gradually beat in cream of tartar and sugar until meringue is very stiff. Add vanilla. Pack softened ice cream firmly in cooled pastry shell. Spread meringue over entire surface so that it touches edges of pastry. Bake at 450 degrees for 3 minutes, or until meringue is a delicate brown. Serve at once.

Congressional Viewpoint

by Sen. John M. Butler

WASHINGTON — In 1945, at San Francisco, the United Nations was created out of the minds and vision of men of good will devoted to the proposition of peace. Today, the United Nations is very much in the news.

The serious situation in the Middle East, resting at the moment as it does on the quixotic question of whether or not economic sanctions are to be invoked against Israel, has served to plant, and in some cases nourish, a seed of doubt as to the continued potency and ability of the United Nations organization to deal effectively with the problem of maintaining the peace. President Eisenhower, in his speech to the Congress last month, expressed these growing sentiments when he said: "The United Nations... can always be helpful, but it cannot be a wholly dependable protector of freedom when the ambitions of the Soviet Union are involved."

The course of history, since 1945, though motivated by good intentions, is peppered with incidents in which the recommendations of the United Nations have been defied by member nations. In the present Arab-Israeli controversy, the 1951 action of the UN Security Council, calling upon Egypt to permit the passage of Israeli ships through the Suez Canal, has been brazenly ignored by Egypt. Similarly, last year the General Assembly called upon Israel to observe the boundaries established by the 1949 armistices with the Arab states—at this writing the Israelis have withdrawn from Egypt in part but not completely.

Egypt and Israel are by no means the only offenders. The Soviet Union is by far the most flagrant in its abuse of UN actions, and violations of the UN Charter. The rape of Hungary will always be regarded by freedom-loving people as a vile act of Communist aggression. A UN resolution of condemnation, demanding the removal of Russian military forces, failed to faze the masters of the Kremlin. In an obvious plan of obstruction, rather than in any spirit of UN cooperation, the Soviet Union has exercised the so-called "veto power" in 79 of 86 instances.

Failure of free governments to steer by the compass of moral principle has caused much of the unrest in the world today. If the UN is to condone the doctrine of "might makes right," applying its processes to the small but not to the large, then morality and integrity among nations can never prevail.

Topping "Takes" The Cake

Here's a topping that takes the simple cake and makes it something extra-special in a matter of mere minutes!

Just the right amount to top a 13 x 9-inch cake made from a packaged cake mix, this topping combining oven-toasted rice cereal, brown sugar, butter and flavoring—is spread on the cake just before it is done, and returned to the oven for about 10 minutes. The result is a cake that comes from the oven already frosted with an unusual caramel crisp topping.

Caramel Crisp Cake

(1 package cake mix)
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 1/2 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
2 cups toasted rice cereal

Prepare cake batter according to package directions, spread in greased 13 x 9-inch pan. Bake as directed.

Combine sugar, flour, butter, milk and vanilla; mix thoroughly. Stir in Rice Krispies. A few minutes before cake is done, remove from oven and spread with topping. Return to oven and bake about 10 minutes longer.

Yield: Sufficient topping for 13 x 9-inch cake.

The first white man to visit the region now known as Vermont, so far as the records show, was Samuel Champlain, the "Father of New France." On July 4, 1609, he entered the lake which he named Lake Champlain.

Ridgeley Cracks Elk Garden's 16-Game String, 59-50

Deaf Cagers Defeat Fort Ashby, 55-47

Blackhawks Advance To Finals; Teter Scores 28 Points

KEYSER, Feb. 28.—Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley High School Blackhawks broke the 16-game winning streak of Elk Garden High School tonight, ushering the Elks out of the opening round of the West Virginia Section No. 16 Class "B" Tournament by the score of 59-50.

The teams had split even during the regular season.

Elk Garden had won 16 games in a row since their last setback December 21 at the hands of Keyser High School.

Tonight's victory advanced Ridgeley to the finals of the sectional tournament on Saturday night.

WVSD To Face Piedmont

West Virginia School for the Deaf defeated Fort Ashby High School in the first game of tonight's twin bill by the score of 55 to 47 and will tackle Piedmont High School Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in Potomac State College's gym. Piedmont drew a first round bye.

Ridgeley jumped off to a 12-9 lead in the first quarter of tonight's game and never was headed. Trailing 49-28 going into the final period, Elk Garden outscored the Blackhawks, 20 to 10 but that late rush was unable to overcome Ridgeley.

Teter Gets 28 Points

John Teter was the "big gun" for Ridgeley with 28 points on 12 field goals and 4-4 fouls. George Earnest collected 12 points and Willard Abe garnered 11. John Hershberger slammed in 20 points for Elk Garden. Frank Wilson racked up 13 and Tommy Milavec accounted for 10.

West Virginia School for the Deaf led by only one point with one minute and 30 seconds remaining when baskets by Gene Smith and Devericks settled the issue in favor of the Romney quint. The game was closed throughout. West Virginia Deaf held a 29-20 advantage at intermission.

In Friday's consolation round game here Elk Garden will play Fort Ashby at 7 p. m. U. S. Grabs Lead In Figure Skating

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 28 (P)—United States skaters jumped off to a fast start today in the men's singles of the world figure skating championship with David Jenkins and Tim Brown setting the pace.

Jenkins, 20-year-old kid brother of Hayes Alan Jenkins, champion the past four years, held a slim edge over Brown, Glendora, Calif., student at the University of California, after skating the first three compulsory figures.

Canada's Charles Snelling was third and another of the red, white and blue entries—Tom Moore, Tacoma, Wash.—was fourth. The other U.S. competitor in the field of 17 skaters from nine countries, Robert Brewer, Pasadena, Calif., was seventh.

Based on a perfect score of 378, this figure standing after the three figures:

Jenkins, 298.5; Brown, 291.9; Snelling, 282.6; Moore, 279.3; Norbert Felsinger, Austria, 274.8; Alain Giletti, France, 273.9; Brewer, 272.4.

Three more difficult figures are scheduled tomorrow.

Schmidt Will Get Chance With Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 28 (P)—A 23-year-old catcher who never has played higher than AA professional baseball, was suddenly thrust into the New York Giants spotlight today following the disclosure that a heart attack had cut short Bill Sarni's playing career.

The young man is Bob Schmidt, who very likely was ticketed for the minors, but now will be given an opportunity to win the Giants' No. 1 catching position.

Petersburg Defeats Circleville, 73-47, In Opening Round

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Mathias High School surprised by defeating Moorefield High School's Yellow Jackets, 72-55, and Petersburg High's Vikings whipped the Circleville Indians, 73-47, in the opening round games of the West Virginia Section 15 Class "B" Basketball Tournament tonight at Moorefield High School.

Sanders High School of Moorefield drew a first round bye and will play Petersburg here Friday night at 9 o'clock. Circleville and Moorefield will clash in a consolation round game at 7:15 Friday night.

Petersburg took a 20-18 lead in tonight's game with Circleville and was on top the rest of the way. Only 10 points separated the teams at the end of the third period, 51-41, and the Vikings outscored their opponents 22 to 6 in the final stanza.

Bobby Harman and Eddie Van Meter sparked Petersburg with 10 goals each and 24 and 20 points, respectively. Charley Teter and Bobby Barkley garnered 22 and 15 markers to pace the Indians.

In the second game, Mathias got away to a 14-7 lead in the first period and never was headed.

Virgil Wilkins headed the attack with 22 points on seven field goals and 8-12 fouls. Jim Vetter and Bobby Sherman collected 14 points each for Moorefield.

Allegany And LaSalle Clash In 73rd Game Of Series

Explorers Are Hosts In Final City Contest

SS. Peter-Paul Gym Is Scene Of Action; AHS Seeks Sweep

Allegany High School's Campers and LaSalle High School's Explorers will ring down the curtain on the 1956-57 scholastic basketball season in Cumberland tonight when they clash at 8 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

Johnstown area officials — Messers, Weyant and Golsvich — will handle the game.

Allegany already has won the city championship by virtue of a sweep of three games with its city rivals and will be striving to make it four straight tonight.

Coach Gene Shaw's quint defeated LaSalle at Campobello by the score of 76-58 and also turned back Fort Hill, 71-50 and 83-64.

Gonsalves, Rosi Fight At Garden

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP) — Unranked Paolo Rosi, hard-hitting New Yorker by way of Italy, is favored to beat Johnny Gonsalves, third-ranking lightweight contender from Oakland, Calif., at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The 29-year old Rosi is the 7-3 choice in the 10-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC 10 p.m. EST).

Gonsalves hasn't lost in 2½ years and has an unbeaten string of 13, including 1 draw. His record is 47-9-3.

Rosi lost his last fight to Baby Vasquez on a seventh round technical knockout because of cuts over both eyes. His record is 23-4, including 11 knockouts.

Moore To Defend Title On June 7

DETROIT, Feb. 28 (AP) — Aging light heavyweight champion Archie Moore will put his title on the line June 7 in Detroit against the winner of a Chuck Spieser-Tony Anthony fight at Olympia Stadium April 5.

Nick Londres, Olympia matchmaker, said today Moore's manager, Charles Johnston, agreed to the date after Londres unsuccessfully tried to set up a bout for April 5 between Moore and Spieser, No. 1 light heavyweight contender.

Anthony is rated No. 3 challenger for Moore's title.

Londres said Johnston told him Moore would not agree to the April 5 date because "he needed more time to train."

Larsen Inks Yankee Pact

Won 11, Lost Five During '56 Season

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP) — Don Larsen, the unpredictable right-hander who pitched a perfect game against Brooklyn in last year's World Series, today signed his 1957 contract with the New York Yankees only a few hours before he would have become an official holdout.

Estimates put Larsen's salary at $18,000, a $6,000 increase over his 1956 pact.

"I'm very satisfied and ready to go to work," said Larsen after reaching agreement with Lee MacPhail, assistant to general manager George Weiss.

Larsen, 27-year-old native of Michigan City, Ind., who makes San Diego, Calif., his winter home, won 11 games and lost five during the regular 1956 campaign.

Retired 27 In Row
In his first World Series start last year he was driven from the box in the second inning of the second game. But, in the fifth game, he retired all 27 Brooklyn batters with no one reaching base.

He climaxed the brilliant effort by striking out pinch-hitter Dale Mitchell for the final out.

Larsen was the first such performance in the major leagues since Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox tamed the Detroit Tigers on April 30, 1922. It was the first perfect game in series history.

Larsen returned unsigned the first contract offered him last month.

Won 30, Lost 40
Larsen, who has a lifetime major league pitching record of 30 victories and 40 defeats, was obtained by the Yankees in a 17-player trade with Baltimore, Nov. 18, 1954.

Gets Boos For Homer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Art Schult, Cincinnati Redleg rookie outfielder, once had the unpleasant experience of getting razzed when he hit a home run.

"It was in Kansas City in 1954," says Schult. "We were playing an American Assn. game against Indianapolis and Herb Score had a no-hit, no-run game with two out in the ninth inning."

"Well, I hit a homer, and with each base I touched, our home town fans booed me louder. They wanted to see Score's game a perfect one. However, some days later I received many letters from fans who apologized, saying they realized I was only doing my job."

Score has been a standout for the Cleveland Indians the past two seasons.

How Team Got 0-14 Change For Shelby

Reducing Via Stairs Rodgers Played Here

By C. V. BURNS

MOOREFIELD High School's record of no wins and 14 defeats in the Potomac Valley Conference may puzzle a lot of basketball fans who follow the 17-school circuit but here's how the Yellow Jackets hit rock bottom.

The P. V. C. has a rule which stipulates that a school is limited to a maximum of 14 games a season in the championship race.

A school may play more than 14 games with teams of the same conference but after 14 no wins are counted but the losses are and for every loss a game is subtracted from the win column.

Moorefield won five and lost nine of its first 14 contests. Four more games were played with conference schools, two being wins and two losses. The defeats cut the Jackets' record to 3-11.

In the meantime, it was discovered that one of Moorefield's regulars was over-age and he had participated in the first five games of the season, three of which were wins and two losses. That meant the forfeiture of three games—two to Mathias and one to Wardsville.

So, Moorefield winds up with an official P. V. C. record of 0-14, which is as low as any school can get under conference rules.

THE longest winning streak credited to an area high school basketball team in recent years was 21 games hung by Moorefield High School in 1951.

The Jackets finished out the regular season with a string of 18 and finally were stopped by Ridgeley in the regional tourney at Martinsburg.

CARROLL SHELBY, of Texas, who won the second annual Breakneck Sports Car Hill Climb, staged last August at Flintstone under the supervision of Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, has been lured by Maserati from under the nose of its arch rival Ferrari.

Shelby drove a Ferrari in the hill climbing test here last year.

He is slated to participate in the 12-hour race at Sebring, Fla., America's only international car event, but doesn't know which model Maserati he will get. Stirling Moss of Great Britain will get first choice of cars, he believes.

Shelby's last Ferrari drive will be April 8 in Mexico City.

It is understood that if Maserati puts a car in the 500-mile race at Indianapolis Memorial Day, Juan Fangio, Babe Ruth of sports car racing from the Argentine, will consider the driver's spot but there is no official entry from that factory to date.

THE Cumberland Classic, sports car racing event, will be held Sunday, May 19, at the Municipal Airport.

Inspection of cars is set for May 17 and practice runs will be made the following day.

The Classic is co-sponsored by the Cumberland Lions Club and Steel Cities Region of the Sports Car Club of America.

JIM NILAND, former local boxing manager, was discussing the "good old days" when the fistie sport was a thriving business here.

It was the custom for fighters to post weight forfeits as a guarantee they would come in at a certain poundage at weighing-in time the day of the match.

A boxer who failed to live up to such an agreement forked over the money to his opponent.

Jim recalls that he managed a boxer whom he didn't think would make the weight. He consulted Dr. Ed Harris, who advised him to walk his boxer down long flights of stairs and that would enable him to shed the excess baggage.

"We picked out the Liberty Trust Building for our reducing act," Niland recalled.

"The boxer took the elevator to the top floor of the six-story structure and walked down to the ground floor via the stairway. He repeated this stunt several times."

"Dr. Harris' prescription worked like a charm because my boy made the weight at 3 p.m., the afternoon of the fight and we didn't lose our forfeit money."

ELECTION of Ira Rodgers to Football's Hall of Fame at New Brunswick, N. J., brought back memories of the days when the powerful West Virginia University backfield star played baseball with the Gilbert Davis Collegians of Morgantown in a 7-game series with the Cumberland Colts in 1923, the year James K. Ford, Irving "Babe" Millerson and James F. McGuire opened Mid-City Park on Wineow street.

Rodgers played left field, third base and second base in that series which the Collegians won.

Clyde Gatchel was the pitching ace for Gilbert Davis and among the other players were Steve Harrick, Earl Zook, Harry Randolph and Jimmy Reilly.

Jack Smith was Cumberland's mound star and Henry Pfister and Joe "Red" Gannon were the catchers.

"Dutch" Haber, "Pop" Rowe, Johnny Byrnes, "Shine" Cortazzo and "Boots" Botti were among the players on the Colts' roster.

Rodgers, incidentally, is the second West Virginian named to the Hall of Fame. Cliff Battles of Wesleyan is the other.

Ira still holds several W.V.U. records, the top ones being 305 points during his playing career, 49 points in a single game (against Marietta in 1919) and 149 points in his senior year.

IF SS. Peter and Paul quint wins the Catholic Basketball League title for the fourth successive year it will not be a record.

St. Michael's of Frostburg copped the league championship five years in a row, 1949 through 1953.

Sievers, Courtney Are Unsigned Nats

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP) — With pitcher Chuck Stobbs, third baseman Eddie Yost, outfield candidate Neil Chrisley agreeing to terms, only three Washington Senators remained unsigned today.

Senators' President Calvin Griffith still has to worry about outfielder Roy Sievers, en route to training headquarters here, and catcher Clint Courtney, last heard from at his Coughatta, La. ranch.

Pitcher Elevio Hernandez also is unsigned.

Lead Baton Rouge Tourney With 68s

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 28 (AP) — Shelley Mayfield and Arnold Palmer, fighting a chill, gusty wind, today jumped into a one-stroke lead in the first round of the Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Mayfield, defending champion from Los Angeles, put together sub par nines of 33 and 34 for a four-under-par 68.

Palmer, playing out of Latrobe, Pa., posted even par 36 on the first nine, then scorched down the back nine for a 32 for his 68. The 27-year-old Palmer is trying for his second straight tournament win after taking the $30,000 Houston Open Monday.

One-stroke behind the leaders were Bill Nary of Wayne, Mich., and Manuel De La Torre of Milwaukee. Nary equalled the course record for the first nine with a 31, five under par but went two over on the last nine with 38.

Five golfers were bunched at 70, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C.; Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif.; Gardner Dickinson of Panama City, Fla.; Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, and Jimmy Demaret of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y.

More than 25 golfers shot par or better.

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP) — Nancy Seifter is only 12 and sports a 93 bowling average. But good scores must be ahead for Nancy for she rolled a 200 game in the Middletown Beginners' League.

The Detroit Tigers enjoyed the night atmosphere in Kansas City in 1956. They won all six night games played there against the Athletics.

The contract terms represented an estimated $6,000 increase over last year for Nieman. The 30-year-old outfielder hit .320, fifth best in the American League. He was obtained by Baltimore last May in a trade with the Chicago White Sox.

Pitchers Mike Fornieles and Sandy Consuegra and shortstop Willy Miranda still have not signed for the coming year, but the two pitchers were to report for contract talks late today.

Miranda, however, was listed as the club's first holdout. He has not been heard from since mailing back his contract in January. Latest reports have him en route to camp after settling his family in Baltimore. Miranda was due to report for practice today.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28 (INS)—Although it's no news that Warners plan to bring the highly successful Patrick Dennis play, "Auntie Mame" to the screen—it is news that Rosaline Russell has put her valuable name to a contract to recreate her role of Auntie Mame.

Jack Warner, who signed Roz, said that the picture will not be made until mid-January of 1958 because of the success of the play on Broadway. The novel was on the best seller list for 104 weeks, and the play is a "must" on everyone's list who visits New York. Roz' notices were as good as if she had written them herself.

Tony Quinn gets the role opposite Anna Magnani in "Obsessed" that Ernie Borgnine so wanted. Hal Wallis said that Hecht-Hill-Lancaster, who have Ernie's contract, preempted him, so the actor is unable to make an outside picture.

Looked as if the legal battle between Borgnine and H-H-L would be settled, but now the fight goes to the courts. Although Hecht-Hill-Lancaster said that they had agreed to allow Ernie to make the picture with Magnani, the Wallis office says they were never given a clearance on Borgnine.

Magnani arrives in New York tomorrow and will be met by Director John Sturges. Much of the picture will be made in Italy, but Anna's scenes are all in Hollywood.

Polly Bergman telephoned me from New York to say that the TV Helen Morgan story will appear on Playhouse 90 on May 16. She said she is already rehearsing the songs; that she owned the property and sold it to CBS and Hubbell Robinson has told her CBS is going ahead.

This is very surprising news inasmuch as I understood CBS had agreed not to make it because of the year's work Warner Brothers has put into the motion picture. However, I doubt very much if the TV version can be called "The Helen Morgan Story" since this title has been registered for some years by Warners.

I was trying to think how many times I have visited Clark Gable on his many sets during his career. Neither one of us could remember. I told him he looked exactly like Rhett Butler in his garb of a southern gentleman for "Band of Angels," which Raoul Walsh is directing. He laughed and said, "A pretty old Rhett Butler."

Clark said his bride Kay has learned to take care of herself and is no longer frightened when she gets a pain. "We live pretty quietly," he said, "but we both like it." He seems very happy and thoroughly enjoying the movie.

I talked with Yvonne De Carlo, who co-stars with Clark. She wears a very dark make-up to fit the character, and she's taken off a great deal of weight. "I'm just starving myself," she said, "to get thin."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Greta Garbo no longer insists on being alone. She's having her portrait painted by Picasso.

June Allyson and Dick Powell had cocktails together in the Polo Lounge at the Beverly Hills Hotel, but with many other people and there is no reconciliation in sight.

Marcel Vertes, who won several academy awards for "Moulin Rouge," is in town. He says he has a commission to paint Jennifer Jones.

The Gish sisters are completely sold out for "Chalk Garden" at the Sombra Playhouse in Phoenix. Eveta Culp Hobby, Clare Booth Luce and Henry Luce were in the audience opening night.

Allen Dale rushed in from Palm Springs to Los Angeles to see his new 8-pound baby girl—his fourth. Then he rushed back to the Springs, his new restaurant in Palm Springs.

Hal Wallis gifted Elvis Presley with a $50,000 bonus check for "Lovin' You"—and Elvis believes the title of the picture where Hal is concerned.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Religious Census Set For LaVale

On Sunday, members of LaVale Baptist Church will begin taking a religious census of the community.

Following the morning service, the census takers will be given final instructions. The census will be held from 1:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Those persons who are not contacted on Sunday will be visited later in the week and it is the hope of Rev. J. C. Lanning, pastor, to have the work completed by March 24.

Former Cab Driver Is Held In Theft

A former cab driver is being held in Allegany County Jail on a charge of grand larceny in the theft of $124 from his father-in-law.

Authorities said Joseph William Thomas of Ashley Street was questioned yesterday in the state's attorney's office in the alleged theft of the money on February 14.

Attending Meeting

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher is attending a committee meeting for the Maryland State Association of State Attorneys in Baltimore today.

Equity Suit Filed

Mary Ellen Powers yesterday filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against George Arthur Powers.

Thesis Studies Education Of Teachers

Dr. William C. VanNewkirk's thesis for his doctor's degree at the University of Maryland was a comparison of teacher education students at Frostburg State Teachers College who indicated differences in acceptance of teaching as a vocational objective.

Dr. VanNewkirk is a psychology instructor and counselor at the college. He has just received his doctorate in education, guidance and human development.

To prepare his thesis, Dr. VanNewkirk conducted a study of 87 teacher education freshmen who showed differences in their acceptance of teaching as a vocational objective. There also were 58 junior college students for a control group and 81 seniors for a criterion.

A preliminary study showed that as a first reason only about 15 per cent selected the school for its curriculum while 49 per cent selected it for its low cost, 28 per cent for its nearness to home and eight per cent for other reasons. Some 40 per cent of the freshmen would prefer an occupation other than teaching.

One of his significant conclusions is that more high school students who might be uncertain of teaching should be encouraged to enter a teacher education institution.

In was suggested that the acceptance of these students with the open recognition that they were in the exploratory stage of making an occupational decision would lead to the development of more and better teachers.

Such a program would make it mandatory, however, that an adequate guidance program should be established to assist these students through the exploratory stage and an on-going research program would be essential to determine whether more and better teachers would be produced.

County 2-Judge

November 8, 1864, under the Constitution of 1864. The latter died August 14, 1865, and was succeeded by George A. Pearce, appointed by the governor August 29, 1865, and elected in November 1865.

Judge Pearce came back into the judicial scene in 1871, when he was elected following Perry's death. He served until his death in 1883, when Josiah H. Gordon got the appointment. This was only for a few months because Judge Hoffman won election November 6, 1883, and served until his death 12 years later.

Allegany County's two-judge history has been a matter of precedent rather than of law. This county's geographical position in the middle of the three-county circuit, the comparatively small population of Garrett County, and strong judicial candidates in this county apparently all combined to assure two judges here.

Proposed Legislation

Attention is being focused on this condition now because when Chief Judge Henderson retires March 17, 1958, this county will have only one judge unless Senate Bill 306, now in the hopper, is passed. This has come about because of a Constitutional amendment approved by Maryland's voters in 1954, which assured Garrett County of one judge. Neil C. Fraley has filled the post since January 1955.

Following is a list of men who succeeded to the chief judgeship after Judge Boyd's retirement:

William C. Walsh was appointed in 1924 succeeding Judge Boyd. D. Lindley Sloan was elected November 2, 1926, succeeding Walsh, and served until his retirement in April 1944. Walter C. Capper qualified April 22, 1944, succeeding Sloan. They all served in the Court of Appeals as well as in Circuit Court here. George Henderson was elected in November 1946 succeeding Capper.

Following is a list of the men who succeeded to the associate judgeship after Judge Hoffman's death July 28, 1895:

David W. Sloan, uncle of D. Lindley Sloan, was elected November 5, 1895, filling the vacancy caused by Hoffman's death. Ferdinand Williams was appointed August 29, 1902, following Sloan's death. Robert R. Henderson, father of George Henderson, was elected November 3, 1903, succeeding Williams. William C. Walsh was appointed September 26, 1921, succeeding Henderson, who retired. Albert A. Doub was elected November 8, 1921, succeeding Walsh. David A. Robb was appointed April 12, 1935, succeeding Doub, who retired. William A. Huster qualified June 10, 1937, succeeding Robb, who died. Elected in November 1938, Judge Huster served until retirement in 1948. Oliver H. Bruce Jr. qualified September 1948.

CLARENCE F. URFFER

Scout Executive Will Speak To Rotary Club

Clarence F. Urffer, Philadelphia, regional executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will speak to the Oakland Rotary Club at its meeting today at 6 p. m. in the William James Hotel there.

The Executive Board of Potomac Council has accepted an invitation to meet with the Oakland Rotarians.

Mr. Urffer has been active in Scouting since 1917, having served as assistant Scoutmaster, Scoutmaster and troop committeeman before entering the professional service.

He started professionally in Scouting in Baltimore in 1926 and two years later became assistant executive in Wilmington, Del. and served as Scout executive in Reading, Pa., from 1937 to 1941.

Mr. Urffer became regional executive of Region 3, with headquarters in Philadelphia, in 1946. He directs Scouting activities in 32 councils in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

Following the Rotary meeting, the council officials will hold their regular board meeting, according to Dr. Thomas Bess, council president.

Mr. Urffer will attend the board meeting which will feature the annual council review. Activities of the past year will be reviewed, and plans for the 1957 program discussed.

C. M. Tribur, a member of the staff of the Region 3 office, will accompany Mr. Urffer and attend the dinner and council review.

F. G. Marburg Heads Blue Cross

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28 (AP)—F. Grainger Marburg has been elected president of Maryland Hospital Service, the organization which administers Maryland's Blue Cross hospitalization plan.

Marburg, a partner in the firm of Alex Brown & Sons, an investment banking firm, succeeds Robert O. Bonnell.

Bonnell is chairman of the State Roads Commission.

Other new officers elected by the board of directors include Robert D. H. Harvey, treasurer; Dr. William L. Garlick, vice president, and Harvey H. Weiss, secretary.

St. Philip's Church Plans Turkey Dinner

St. Philip's Episcopal Church will serve a turkey dinner in the parish hall from 1 until 6 p. m. Sunday.

Charles Densmore will serve as general chairman for the dinner. Miss Kathleen Cooper will be in charge of admissions. Mrs. William Stewart will be chairman of the dessert table. William Wood will supervise the kitchen and Mrs. Nial Keys will be in charge of waitresses.

tember 14, 1948, succeeding Huster. Morgan C. Harris was elected in November 1950, succeeding Bruce.

All of the information concerning the tenure of the Allegany County judges since 1850 is included in the Maryland Reports, copies of proceedings of the Maryland Court of Appeals, available for reference in the Law Library at the Court House.

Court Since 1791

Allegany County's judicial history dates from April 25, 1791, when Associate Judge Andrew Bruce held court for the first time in John Graham's house on the east side of North Mechanic Street.

J. Thomas Scharf's History of Western Maryland, available for reference at the Cumberland Free Public Library, contains a list of judges who conducted Circuit Court in Allegany County from 1791 until 1850. All of them were appointed by the governor. There is no explanation as to which were residents of Allegany County.

The list: Chief Justices—Richard Potts, beginning in 1791; John Buchanan, beginning in 1806; Robert N. Martin, beginning in 1845.

Associate Judges—Andrew Bruce and John Simpkins, beginning in 1791; Patrick Murdock and Hanson Briscoe, beginning in 1797; William Craik succeeded Murdock, beginning in 1801; William Claggett succeeded Briscoe, beginning in 1802; Abraham Shriver succeeded Craik, beginning in 1806; Roger Nelson succeeded Claggett, beginning in 1810; Thomas Buchanan succeeded Nelson, beginning in 1815; Richard H. Marshall succeeded Shriver, beginning in 1843; Daniel Weisel succeeded Buchanan, beginning in 1847.

Garrett County Teachers Unit Endorses Raver

The Garrett County Teachers Association, through its executive committee meeting in emergency session at the Accident Elementary School building, adopted a resolution endorsing the "Program of Maryland Public Schools," that is now before the Maryland General Assembly. The resolution also gives a vote of confidence to the executive secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association, Milton C. Raver.

The resolution in part states: "We have complete confidence in our state executive secretary. Our advisory council which represents all teachers in the county has given Mr. Raver a unanimous vote of confidence. We also note that the advisory council of the MSTA gave Mr. Rader a complete vote of confidence in a recent session."

"This program is not the program of any individual but is a proposal which has been voted upon unanimously by our delegate assembly, representing more than 14,000 public school teachers."

"We are interested in the welfare of children as well as the welfare of teachers," the resolution said.

The committee concludes the resolution with a statement, "We are not attacking in any way the House of Delegates because of the statement of one delegate, and we wish to make this fact known to all. We thank all the delegates and senators for their past and continued support of public education."

The resolution was sent to members of the General Assembly from Garrett County and the speaker of the House of Delegates, as well as area newspapers, according to Robert S. Rodeheaver, president of the Garrett County Teachers Association.

He explained it is an attempt to outline the teachers' position and to refute some of the statements made by a Wicomico County delegate on the floor of the House several days ago.

Traffic Engineer Plans Visit Here

Charles M. Uphan Jr., deputy director of traffic engineering for Baltimore, will be here this weekend to take a look at this city's traffic situation, according to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

He plans to arrive here tonight, when he will get a briefing from Commissioner Keegan and discuss the possibility of a traffic survey.

Commissioner Keegan said Mr. Uphan will meet with Police Chief R. E. Flynn tomorrow, when he will be taken for a tour of the city.

Supervisors To Meet

Members of the Board of Supervisors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District will meet at 1:30 p. m. today at the office of County Agent Joseph M. Steger at the Court House. It will be Floyd Buser's first meeting as chairman.

the powder specks will appear on the gauze.

A demonstration on the methods used in taking a plaster cast of footprints also was held for the attending officers.

Yesterday morning's session covered public relations and methods of obtaining evidence in various investigations, and the two instructors reviewed actual cases involving numerous types of crimes.

Touching on the public relations phase of police work, Sgt. Smith told the local and area officers that police should be courteous at all times to the defendant. He stated that officers should attempt to gain as many friends as possible, and in the end these friends will aid the officer in solving cases.

The State Police official also touched on methods of gaining evidence in murder cases and highway fatalities. He reminded the officers that the police should not move the victim's body until definite identification is made.

Another point brought out by Sgt. Smith was that officers should work hand-in-hand with medical examiners, and be care-

Kimble To Speak To Association

Robert B. Kimble, chairman of the Maryland State Employment Security Board, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association on March 12.

The dinner meeting will be held at Grace Community Hall on Second Street, beginning at 6:30 p. m. Arnold Robertson, president of the association, will be toastmaster for the occasion.

Mr. Kimble will speak on "Employment Security" and will conduct a question and answer period following his address to the businessmen's group.

Since April 25, 1953, Mr. Kimble has been chairman of the ESB, a post he took over at the request of Governor Theodore R. McKeldin after resigning from the Maryland Senate where he represented Allegany County for many years, serving as minority leader in the General Assembly.

Nelson W. Russler, past president of the association, is chairman of the entertainment committee and will introduce Mr. Kimble at the Tuesday evening meeting.

Charm And Marshmallows

If John Van Druten is not terribly careful, he's likely to grow up to be our next Rachel Crothers, whose plays held the tea and crumpet seat from East Orange to the first TV play, "The Princess Back Home," on Goodyear's Playhouse last Sunday, had all the Crothers' earmarks—the slick professional structure, the ladies harassed (but not very much) by love, the marshmallow dialogue and the nice setting in Connecticut. It all went down very smoothly, too, like a chocolate fudge sundae.

It was a story about a slightly disreputable aunt—disreputable aunts are in fashion this year, what with "Auntie Mame" and all that—who comes home to her mother, her brother-in-law and her sixteen-year-old niece, more or less to take root after what I gather were some rather mild escapades. She is a novelist and, by the wildest of coincidence, she has just written a book about a woman who comes home—after some mild escapades—to marry the first man who ever kissed her. The novelist proceeds to do the same thing as her fictional heroine—that is, marry the first boy who kissed her, who happens to be her sister's widower—but not before becoming mildly embroiled with a rich Lothario who also makes mild passes at the sixteen-year-old. There hasn't been so much mildness around since the last cigaret commercial.

It's been a long time since kissing has been discussed at such length and taken so seriously in a dramatic work of any sort. The sixteen-year-old, very attractively played by Abigail Kellogg, was caught being kissed not once, but twice—once by her grandmother, a mean old nag (grandmother's are not in fashion this season) and once by her father. The uproar that ensued over these minor transgressions was, I thought, rather excessive—unless I've got out of touch with the moral tones being fed in the suburbs these days, which is quite possible.

There wasn't really very much

Celeste Holm could do with the part of the heroine, but she tried. The whole thing wouldn't really be worth so much comment, except that Van Druten has a very respectable record of success in the theatre and we all expected more than this. One line spoken by the Lothario to the sixteen-year-old was: "You look beautiful in the moonlight." I must remember that in case I ever get out in the moonlight again with a sixteen-year-old girl. I had thought sixteen-year-old susceptibility had risen above that particular gambit and it's useful to know that it hasn't.

A recent "Alcoa Hour," in more or less the same setting and the same mood, was the TV version of Philip Barry's "The Animal Kingdom." When played on Broadway, way back in 1932 by the irrepressible Leslie Howard, this one had great charm and even the occasional semblance of wit. The story itself, about a man who discovers that his wife's harlotry and that his former mistress was much more wife to him, had a cogence and point that seem to have been dimmed and blunted by the years.

One reason is that the TV producer or Philip Barry Jr., who adapted his father's play, or somebody carefully removed most of the point of the jest, and since the story was fairly delicate to start out with, this didn't leave much for the actors to do. There's been a good deal of this sort of thing—a mixture, or attempted mixture, of a romance and charm this season, and we may expect much more. On "Playhouse 90" the other night was an adaptation of an H. Allen Smith story called "One Coat of White," with Claudette and Paul Henreid. In this one, Miss Colbert, as a forty-ish widow with grown-up children, goes to Europe on a last fling, enraptures the most famous modern French painter in the world, and thoroughly discombobulates Seattle when he chases her home.

I imagine all the forty-ish widows and possibly some forty-ish wives found all this mid-term love-making reassuring. But

Sleet And Fog Cover Area In Coat Of Ice

Travel Conditions Very Hazardous

Freezing rain, sleet and cold winds drenched the tri-state area with a thick, slick coating of ice last night, stalling highway traffic almost to a standstill and bringing utilities crews into action to care for telephone, gas and electric lines.

City and state police were advocating no travel on the streets and roads in Western Maryland and were recommending chains where driving was necessary.

Yesterday's all-day rainfall turned to sleet during the night and freezing temperatures bottled up automobiles and pedestrians alike.

State Roads Commission crews were at work before nightfall in Garrett County salting and cinder-spraying slippery highways and Maryland State Police said late last night that more than an inch of ice was covering the western-most county terrain.

Wires Are Coated

The clinging sheets of ice coated utility wires and other detached objects. Repairmen with Potomac Edison and Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone companies were held in readiness for expected emergency calls as lines drooped under the heavy strain of the icy blanket.

Fog was reported on the mountains east of Cumberland and icy highways made traversing the mountainous terrain almost impossible. Authorities said conditions were so bad between Hancock and Hagerstown that traffic was at a complete standstill on U. S. Route 40.

A tractor-trailer truck skidded and jack-knifed on U. S. 40 west of Big Savage Mountain, partially blocking the roadway in that area.

Speed Limit Cut

State Police in Pennsylvania reported the all-day rain had turned to sleet in the late evening and freezing temperatures hovering around the 25 degree mark. Police on the Pennsylvania Turnpike put up temporary 35 m.p.h. speed limit signs in areas where the limit is normally 65.

Spotty fog accompanied the freezing rain in West Virginia where state police said traffic was very light. Very little travel was recommended in that area. Temperatures hit the 30 mark last night.

Trucks traveling both east and west through Cumberland were running hours late, and indications were that some would not be able to make their runs late last night.

City police reported at midnight that no distress calls had been received but city crews were expected to be alerted to the dangerous conditions of the streets as the freezing rain continued. The mercury hit a low of 27 in the city.

Steep hills within the city limits became impassable late in the evening and streets throughout Cumberland were slushy and turning slippery.

The rain and sleet are expected to end this morning, leaving cloudy, windy and cold weather in their wake.

Parking Firm States Program

Recommendations of Minute Parking, Inc., Pittsburgh, for the solution of existing parking problems of the City of Cumberland have been received by Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

Charles Chatkin, an official of the firm, said it is "our considered opinion" that either of the two sites proposed are excellent sites for a parking structure. "There is no doubt," he added, "that a parking structure on any of these sites will alleviate to some degree the parking problem and contribute greatly to the economy of your downtown business."

He said the firm is reasonably sure institutional financing is available, and that "our survey of your town indicates that our parking structure . . . will easily amortize itself over a maximum period of 25 years with the possibilities of showing profits in addition to amortization."

The Minute Parking proposal has been discussed with city officials on a number of occasions. It has been generally opposed by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, which wants the entire problem handled by a Parking Authority.

The Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, has presented a hospital bed to the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association. These beds, several of which are already on free loan by the association to heart patients in the area, are much in demand, and as the heart program expands more and more physicians request them for their bed-ridden heart patients at home. The presentation of this newest bed is being made by Mrs. Ruth Wood, secretary and ways and means committee chairman, and Miss Mildred Blades, president of the sorority, to Ernest B. Treat, president of the Heart Association.

County 2-Judge Tradition Has Existed For 64 Years

By ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

Not many Allegany County residents of today are old enough to recall the time when this county had only one Circuit Court judge.

This two Allegany County judges precedent started 64 years ago, when on May 3, 1893, A. Hunter Boyd was appointed chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, succeeding Richard Henry Alvey of Washington County.

Baron Receives Commission To Juvenile Body

Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday received his special commission as a member of the Maryland Commission for Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency from Governor Theodore R. McKeldin.

In a letter to the local Juvenile Court magistrate Gov. McKeldin pointed out he has established the commission to give statewide leadership in establishing and carrying out a constructive program for the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency.

The commission is not an administrative body but rather, its responsibilities lie in fact-finding, evaluating existing services and stimulating the community to find ways of filling gaps in existing services or procedures.

In appointing Magistrate Baron to the commission Gov. McKeldin wrote, "I wish to thank you for the great service you have rendered Maryland and Allegany County as Judge of the Juvenile Court, and I am particularly anxious that we continue to benefit from the experience and wisdom which you have gained in this field."

He then noted that apart from the current interest in juvenile delinquency the governor had other reasons for the establishment of the commission, the fact that the President of the United States will be asking each state in the Union to appoint a commission to consider plans for the next White House Conference on Children and Youth in the near future, and that there is pending legislation before Congress to give grants in aid to the states for preventive programs in juvenile delinquency.

Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Public Welfare, is chairman of the honorary commission.

Cumberland Fair Workers Are Feted

Some 50 persons who were workers at the annual Cumberland Fair last August were guests at a dinner last night at the LaVale Fire Hall sponsored by the Cumberland Fair Association.

Harry J. Barton, general manager of the fair, thanked all of the workers for their devotion to the fair.

Ralph J. McHenry, retired county agent, discussed the workings of the State Fair Board and how the various community and county fairs receive their funds. Miss Leona Phillips, supervisor of entries, reported that some 4,700 different entries were received at the fair last summer. The number and quality of the entries both exceeded previous years.

Other department heads were called upon to make brief comments about the fair, which will be presented the week of August 19 this year.

Local Church Will Install New Pastor

St. Paul's Plans Services Sunday

Rev. John F. Sammel, new pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will be installed formally in his new position at services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday at the church.

The actual installation will be conducted at the morning service by Rev. Dr. J. Frank Fife, full time president of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church.

Rev. Robert S. Nagle, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Coatesville, Pa., will deliver the charge to the congregation. Rev. Mr. Nagle is married to the former Miss Rebecca Phillippi of Cumberland, a former member of St. Paul's Church.

At the evening service Rev. E. Russell Fink, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church since last October, will deliver the charge to the pastor, Donald Turley, a member of St. Paul's Church who is also a student at Allegany High School, also will take part in the evening service. He is planning to attend Gettysburg College next year as a pre-ministerial student. Members of the Vestry of St. Paul's Church include Charles L. Kopp, lay president; H. Bruce Scharf, treasurer; Howard E. Irwin, secretary; H. C. Elder, R. Harold Fearer, Ralph F. Frantz, Raymond H. Hewitt, Delbert R. Kitzmiller, M. Monroe MacKenzie, Earl E. Manges, Donald U. Moffett and C. Merle Zembower.

Rev. Mr. Sammel succeeds Rev. Dr. H. T. Bowersox, who retired last year after many years as pastor of the downtown church.

New LaVale Zoning Bill Introduced

Provides Election Of District Board

A revised LaVale zoning bill was introduced this week by Senator Charles M. See.

Entered Wednesday as Senate Bill 438, the proposal calls for the election of a zoning board for Election District 29.

Senator See said the original bill will be allowed to die, since it was considered better to introduce a new bill than to amend the original measure.

He said reaction to the new plan has been generally good, and that many of those who opposed the original bill have indicated approval of an elected zoning board.

The Senate committee on Judicial Proceedings, he said, yesterday gave a favorable report on his Senate Bill 291, which would remove Allegany County from the requirements for naming a deputy sealer of weights and measures.

The Allegany County merit bill, he said, has been sent to the Allegany County Delegation for study and will be introduced next week.

He said he will hold up House Bill 314, the Tri-Towns and Luke plant sewage treatment plant bill when it reaches the Senate so all parties affected will have an opportunity to study the plan.

Sen. See said the bill will be so important to this area that he wants it checked thoroughly, and approval indicated, before it is enacted.

Outdoor Sign Bills Held Up By House

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 28 (AP)—Outdoor advertisers argued with roadside control advocates today at a legislative committee hearing on two bills which would regulate the erection of advertising structures along roads.

The House Ways and Means Committee deferred action on both measures.

One would prohibit the erection of billboards and similar commercial signs within 500 feet of expressways. The other would direct the various county commissioners to set up zones in which similar displays would be prohibited.

Fred W. Tummeler, representing the American Automobile Assn., said outdoor signs are a safety hazard because they distract the driver.

John Clark, speaking for the "Keep Maryland Beautiful" Committee, said billboards destroy the beauty of the countryside and prevent motorists from getting "as much pleasure" from the roads as they are entitled to.

Robert Linowes, Silver Spring attorney and chief witness for the advertisers, cited a number of university and insurance studies in an effort to show that outdoor signs are not a cause of accident.

Tom Litzenberg, a Cumberland advertiser, said the industry has agreed not to place signs along 50 miles of the state roads.

He said the proposed laws are "discriminatory and unsound" because they are aimed at the outdoor advertising business only.

Carload Of Salt Is Being Shipped

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz was notified yesterday that a 40-ton carload of salt is on its way.

He said the supply, along with quantities on hand, will be enough to last until spring arrives.

Two Local Marines Accuse 'DI' Of Maltreating Them

Two local Marines are among 11 Parris Island, S. C., recruits who have accused a drill instructor of striking them.

They are Pvt. Donald Atkinson, 23, of 14-E Jane Frazier Village, son of Mrs. Edith Atkinson, and Pvt. Dennis M. Boyd, 19, RD 3 Bowman's Addition, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Boyd.

Atkinson and Boyd made the charge against Cpl. William R. Walsh, 25, Lyndhurst, N. J., who is scheduled for court martial next Thursday. Conviction could mean a bad conduct discharge, reduction to private, and loss of pay during six months of confinement.

Mrs. Boyd said she knows nothing of the particulars of the case but that her son had suggested that they watch the newspapers for information of his platoon.

Young Boyd was graduated from Fort Hill High School last June. He enlisted November 27.

Mrs. Atkinson said her son enlisted in the Marine Corps about six months ago. He previously served three years in the Army. Prior to joining the Marines he had been employed at the Brock Scrap and Salvage Company here.

Pvt. Atkinson attended Fort Hill High School. His mother said she was unaware of the case but her son had made comments in letters home which indicated that the training had been "rough."

Thirty-nine DI's, a supply sergeant and a cook have been convicted at Parris Island in the past 16 months of maltreating Marine trainees. One recruit has been convicted of bringing false charges against a drill instructor.

Central Hi-Y Meets Tonight

The Central Hi-Y Club will meet tonight at 10 o'clock in Room 1 at Central YMCA during intermission of the weekly Rec Club dance.

Lawrence H. Dehn, program secretary of Central YMCA, said yesterday that the guest speaker for the meeting, which will be limited to club members only, will be Charles Yost, owner and driver of a Mercedes-Benz sports car.

Yost will address the group on various phases of sports car racing and will tell of his experiences in numerous races. He also will show movies of races and sports car events.

Mr. Dehn also said the local YMCA ping pong champions will leave at 10:30 a. m. Saturday for Hagerstown where they will meet the Hagerstown YMCA ping pong team in a special match. Local champions are Gerald Hare, Jerry White, Joseph Smith and Clyde Mechem.

House Defeats Veto Of License Hike Repealer

Rock Fish Issue Still Stalemated

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 28 (AP)—Maryland motorists were relieved today of any possible worry about paying higher license fees when the Legislature disowned Gov. McKeldin's veto.

The House of Delegates knocked down the objections of the governor 90-19 to repeal the increase which have been on the books since 1954. The Senate overrode the veto 25-1 yesterday, the same day it came down from the executive.

While the veto was treated with summary dispatch, the House still was up against a parliamentary block on whether the season on rock fish should be closed in January and February.

Vote Postponed

Withstanding accusations of "intellectual dishonesty" and "insults to intelligence," fighters for commercial fishermen prevented a vote for the third straight day on the two-month ban. They did it by simply offering an amendment, invoking a mandatory rule to postpone consideration for 24 hours and promised to do the same day by day.

Majority Floor Leader Boone (D-Balto County) had virtually guaranteed House rejection of the governor's veto of the increased license fee repealer. He had told the 98 Democrats it amounted to a party issue. Only six of them failed to heed his word.

Disputes Party Stamp

Minority Floor Leader Hughes (R-Allegany) disputed the party issue stamp put on the repealer.

Since the fees have been postponed yearly by legislative action with Gov. McKeldin's acquiescence, Hughes said "no harm has been done since they never have been put into effect and may never be."

Del. Culotta (R-Balto 3d) claimed repeal would "again be an example of irresponsible legislation" and he predicted Democrats would be "plagued in the future" with it. He suggested it would be an election campaign issue in 1958.

Gov. McKeldin had argued that the yearly postponements should be continued as long as it was demonstrated the higher fees would not be necessary to build roads. But he was of the opinion they should be kept ready for levying in event more money is required to complete the 12-year-road building program.

Reaction Is Varied

Reaction to the rock fish stalemate ranged from humor to anger. Today's amendment by Del. Bennett (D-Dorchester) read:

"Any rights and privileges now enjoyed by the people of the State of Maryland will not be taken from them during the months of January and February."

"Oh, my God," moaned one legislator amidst a spattering of laughter as the amendment was digested.

"It insults the intelligence of the House," said Del. Machen (D-Prince Georges), most outspoken proponent of the ban. "It supports my remarks of the other day that some selfish interests will take any tactic to defeat what is right."

He advised he will not give in to break the deadlock and quoted Abraham Lincoln to the effect "be firm where you are right."

Latham Bucks Ban

Del. Latham (D-Talbot), one of the Eastern Shore legislators bucking the ban, endorsed the quote. "When the livelihood of our people is being affected, we should defend it to the best of our ability and we are doing it sincerely."

For the second straight day, opponents of the ban also tried and failed to have the bill sent back to committee. Today's motion was made by Del. Acker (D-Balto 3d) and it was defeated 54-53.

Del. Bacharach (D-Balto 5th), a bill supporter, accused Acker of being "guilty of intellectual dishonesty" in claiming he wanted a committee to reconsider it to "clear up confusion" caused by the proposed amendments.

Del. Nowakowski (D-Balto 1st) implied retaliatory measures would be taken if the "dilatory tactics" continued by saying that "two can play the game."

Postpones Action

The senate postponed action on a bill which House Republicans mentioned in fighting repeal of the higher motor vehicle fees.

The bill, sponsored by Majority Floor Leader Turnbull (D-Balto County), would have out of state trucks using Maryland roads pay the equivalent of the state gasoline tax.

Opponents of the license repealer argued it was inconsistent to take away some added money from the State Roads Commission and give it more from another source.

Fears Reprisals

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) had the proposal to tax interstate trucks postponed until next Tuesday. He said he feared it would result in other states doing the same.

"I didn't even know such a bill had been introduced," Friend said in asking for more time to study it. The bill was introduced 15 days ago.

The Senate also put off what is expected to be a lot of debate on three different proposals aimed at guaranteeing that motorists could collect damages in every accident.

Police Training To Continue Today

A two-day police training course for members of the Frostburg and Cumberland police departments will be concluded with a six-hour session today at City Hall.

Detective Sgt. Thomas Smith of Pikesville, and Cpl. Harold L. Basore, of Hagerstown, both members of the Maryland State Police, have been instructors for the special training program instituted here by Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn.

The course is being held for the 30 law enforcement officers, including four members of the Frostburg City Police force, from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 o'clock.

Although some of the officers taking the instruction have been members of the police departments for many years, most are policemen with less than five years' service.

Yesterday afternoon's session was primarily concerned with the preparation and safeguarding of evidence by officers, and the necessary preparation for the presentation of facts in a courtroom.

The State Police instructors emphasized that presence of mind, demeanor of the testifying officers, and calm testimony were conducive to good testimony during criminal trials.

The class also was given instruction in the method of taking paraffin tests to determine if a suspect has fired a weapon.

When a gun is discharged, minute powder burns are left on the hand holding the weapon. When gauze is wrapped on the hand and melted wax is applied,
